$500,000 Building, Land Development For San Rafael

Travel Agency Buys Land Owned Three Generations

A valuable piece of downtown San Rafael property held in one family for three generations was reported sold today.

Approximately one-half acre at the southeast corner of Fifth and D streets known as the Vaning property will soon become the site of a new three-story office building.

The property was owned by Walker and William Vaning of San Rafael, Mrs. Eva Hunter of San Anselmo, Arthur Vaning of Kentfield and Mrs. Elizabeth Parker of San Rafael, who inherited it from their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Vaning.

It was sold at a price reported as "in excess of $100,000" to Frank W. Costanzo of San Rafael and Leonard J. R. Davis of Sausalito, officers and directors in Redwood Travel Advisors in San Rafael.

CONSTRUCTION SOON

The buyers said plans for the new building are now being prepared and construction will begin soon. Most of the space in the building will be occupied by Redwood Travel Advisors, headed by Frank George.

Projected development of the entire site is expected to be in excess of $500,000.

TWO HOUSES

The land, which has two houses on it, was purchased more than 100 years ago by Thomas Bell, who had emigrated to San Francisco from London. Bell, a cabinetmaker, was the grandfather of the recent owners.

Walker Vaning said both he and his brother William were born in one of the houses on the property, where their grandfather went into the furniture making business.

Marinites Seek UHF TV License

Mr. and Mrs. Deane Devere Banta of 45 Vista Grande, Greenbrae, have applied for a license for an ultra-high frequency television station in San Francisco, the first for the Bay Area.

The application, filed with the Federal Communications Commission yesterday, was in the name of Television San Francisco, a corporation headed by Banta. He said today that the firm is capitalized at half a million dollars.

Banta, who is manager of Radio Station KSAY in San Francisco, said his television station, if approved, would broadcast at first only from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. each day.

It would be directed toward the cosmopolitan elements of the area and include foreign language programs and movies.

"We all talk about the Bay Area being a cosmopolitan, sophisticated area, but no one does anything about it," he said.

His application asks for a permit for Channel 26. He explained, however, that this may have to be changed because of the FCC's proposed reshuffling of channel designations. This may delay action on the appli-

Many Sales But No Mail Saturday

Although many stores will be featuring "Washington's Birthday Sales" Saturday, it will be a post office holiday.

There will be no mail delivery nor window service at post offices, said San Rafael Postmaster Warren H. Williams, except that special delivery mail will be delivered.

The day will be a parking meter holiday in San Rafael (where many stores will be open) and Mill Valley (where nearly all will be closed).

Our Balmy Weather To Remain

"All everyone does is talks about the weather but no one does anything about it."

With weather like today's, who wants to?

The unusually warm temperatures have only prompted the cynics to announce, "Well, this won't last for long."

Yesterday San Anselmo basked in 83-degree sunshine, the highest temperature in February in 10 years.

Other parts of the county enjoyed what may be an early spring with a high of 79 degrees in San Rafael, 78 in Woodacre, and 78 in Terra Linda.

The noon temperatures today in San Rafael was 68 degrees, slightly lower than yesterday's 70 degrees.

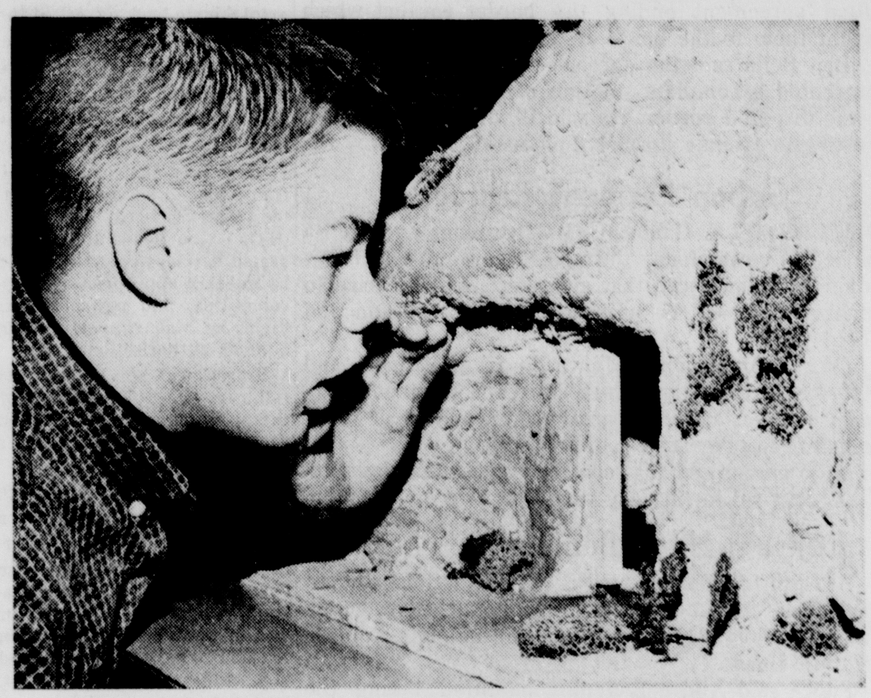

San Francisco's high of 75 degrees yesterday set an all-time record for Feb. 19 there.

Stage Set For Presidents Of U.S., Mexico To Confer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A traditional Southern California welcome, including a fiesta in the Sports Arena late Saturday, awaits President Lyndon B. Johnson and President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico this weekend.

The two chiefs of state have scheduled a series of goodwill talks, and a brief meeting with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at the desert resort city of Palm Springs.

President and Mrs. Johnson will fly to Palm Springs tonight and come here tomorrow for Charter Day ceremonies at the University of California's Westwood campus.

Election Filings Close In A Rush

3 Women Run In Sausalito

Of nine cities in Marin holding municipal elections April 14, all but two will have contests for city council positions.

In none, however, will there be a contest for city clerk or treasurer. And in Belvedere, the clerk and treasurer jobs being vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Britton Rey will have to be filled by appointment as no candidate filed.

Biggest field will be in Sausalito, with 10 candidates for three city council openings. Close behind are Mill Valley and Belvedere, each with eight aspirants for three openings.

Fairfax has five candidates for two council posts; Novato, six for three. Four candidates are out for three positions in Larkspur. San Anselmo has three candidates for two openings. The no-contest cities are Ross, with three candidates for three council positions, and Corte Madera, with the two incumbents whose terms expire being the only candidates.

A last-morning rush of six filings put Belvedere into the "hot spot" category today.

SAUSALITO

There were five filings late yesterday and today in Sausalito, among them being two women. This gave Sausalito

4TH DISTRICT

Keilty Enters Race For Board

Another candidate today jumped into the already crowded race for county supervisor for the Fourth District, now held by George H. Ludy.

The new aspirant is John T. Keilty, 36, of Woodacre. Keilty is a home builder and former manager of the Household Finance Corp. office in San Rafael. A resident of Woodacre since 1956, he has been a member of the Lagunitas School District Board for three years.

"I am concerned that special interest groups seem to be able to exert too much pressure in this county," Keilty declared.

As an example, he pointed to the San Geronimo Valley master plan, recommended by a citizen committee and the planning commission. The supervisors at first rejected the plan and increased the size of the commercial area. (This week, the supervisors went back to the original plan and approved it in substantially the same form as recommended.)

When we hire professional people, we should listen to their recommendation and not reverse them unless there is a good reason for it," Keilty said.

Keilty is the fifth man in the race so far. The others are incumbent Ludy, James Marshall, Thomas T. Storer, and James Dougan.

JOHN T. KEILTY
Fifth in race

He is past president of the Woodacre Improvement Club and director since 1958, charter member and past president of the San Geronimo Valley Lions Club, and a director of the Marin Council of Community Services.

A native of Michigan, he lived in North Dakota and Washington, then joined the Navy for three and one-half years. He graduated from University of San Francisco as a business administration major in 1953.

School Group Eyes Novato, San Rafael

Wheels will begin to turn again in March on school district unification in the San Rafael and Novato areas, the Marin County Committee on School District Organization decided last night.

No formal action is planned, at least for the time being, on unification in the Tomales High School District area, because of plans for unionization of all its elementary districts, which would result in unification without any approval by the county committee or the state board of education.

In the San Rafael-Novato study area, committee chairman Earl Marshall reported that both the San Jose and Novato districts are ready to go ahead with a unification election.

He asked for a meeting of the augmented committee for the study area, and predicted the group would ask for elections on unification of the San Jose and Novato districts and of the San Rafael and Dixie elementary districts.

He added that the believed the committee could complete hearings in the Novato-San

Unification Vote Set Over Pleas To Delay

Despite a plea for delay reportedly endorsed by superintendents of eight school districts within the Tamalpais High School District area, the Marin County Committee on School District Organization voted again last night to hold the Tamalpais unification election on June 2.

Two committee members, Mrs. Frank E. Short and Mrs. Joseph B. Wallace, voted for a change, saying they wanted the election in November so trustees could be elected at the same time.

Committee assistant secretary Edwin L. Blackmore said there is a chance the trustee election could be held on the June date. He pointed out that the date of the trustee election would be set not by the committee, but by County Supt. of Schools Virgil S. Hollis.

The augmented committee studying the Tamalpais District had recommended the trustee election be held on the same day as the unification election. Last month Blackmore said state law on setting trustee elections precluded this being done, but last night he reported County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney believed the elections could be held together.

He said he questioned the propriety of the district superintendents taking a stand one way or the other on the matter. Also, he said, a tax election tentatively set for this spring was postponed until after June 2 because of the unification election. He said he could not see how the election could be held off to November.

ALGIERS (UPI)—President Ahmed Ben Bella announced today that Algeria and Morocco have signed a final agreement ending the border conflict which brought them to the brink of war last October.

Ben Bella said the agreement, signed last night, represented a complete solution of existing differencs ovr the disputed border. He said it will enable the two countries to resume normal diplomatic relations.

Gabon Pesident Restoed

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (UPI)—President Leon M'Ba returned to power today through French military intervention and announced that army officers who tried to overthrow him will be punished "without pardon and without pity."

French paratroopers flown in from Senegal and the former French Congo put down the mutinous Gabonese troops yesterday and arranged the release of M'Ba, who had been taken to a remote village.

M'Ba announced that controversial national assembly elections set for Sunday would be held on schedule.

Ransom Hope Behind At Theft

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI)—A 19-year-old student described by neighbors as a "nice, unobtrusive young man" was held today after confessing he stole Rubens' "Negroes' Heads."

Police said Andre Beugnies admitted taking the 17th century painting from the Brussels Museum of Ancient Art Monday hoping to get 850,000 francs' ransom. Experts value the art treasure at from $200,000 to 1 million dollars.

The youth was telephoning the ransom demand to museum curator Philippe Robert-Jones from a public booth yesterday when police traced the call and sent a prowl car to arrest him.

Many Quake Victims Won't Return

LAJES, AIR BASE, Azores (UPI)—The islanders of nearby Soa Jorge escaped three days of destructive earth shocks without casualties, but many of the 1,800 who fled say they will never return, a U.S. Air Force spokesman said today.

This big U.S. Air Force base on the neighboring island of Terceira was a communications center for the rescue operation after the tremors began to jar Sao Jorge Sunday night. Gale winds of up to 80 miles per hour kept rescue planes on the ground, but an international fleet bucked high waves to come to the aid of the islanders.

By last night, however, the shocks appeared to have ended and rescue operation was suspended temporarily.

Barry Charges Columnist Attacks

HANOVER, N. H. (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says newspaper columnists are against him.

'There has been a concerted press action against me—not by reporters, but by the columnists," Goldwater charged yesterday.

Blaze At Hotel

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—A fire in the ballroom of the Admiral Semmes Hotel last night sent guests streaming into the streets from the 12-story building. No injuries were reported.

Layoffs At Aerojet

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 2,000 workers will be laid off at Aerojet-General Corp's Sacramento plant, Dan Kimball, the firm's board chairman said yesterday. Kimball said the layoff was due to cutbacks in the nation's space spending.

Congressman To Run

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican Rep. John F. Baldwin of Martinez today announced that he will run for a sixth term in California's 14th Congressional District.

$2.48 Million Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A contract for 2.48 million dollars for construction of the first building of the new Santa Cruz campus of the University of California was awarded yesterday to M and K Corp. of San Francisco. Ruby 'Press Concert'

DALLAS (UPI)—Double press badges, in two colors, which identify newsmen at the Jack Ruby murder trial will be good tonight for free admission to a concert conducted by Van Cliburn, the famed Texas concert pianist.

$6.9 Billion Record Arms Budget Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) with powerful Senate backing, asked the House today to approve a record 16.9-billion-dollar defense authorization including millions for the design of a new bomber.

Vinson is chairman of the House armed services committee. Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) who heads the Senate armed services committee and its military appropriations subcommittee, told newsmen last night he was supporting the bomber authorization.

Vinson was set to lead the fight on the House floor for the new bomber, which woulld replace aging B-52's and B-58's in the 1970's.

He also was ready to urge congressional support for a new, improved manned interceptor that was not in Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's budget. The interceptor would be able to knock down Russian bombers far beyond U.S. continental air defenses.

A large part of California's mineral wealth comes from an 8,000 square mile area in San Bernardino, Inyo and Kern counties.

Ex-Nazi Describes Masquerade By SS

BRAUNSCHWEIG, Germany (UPI) — A former Nazi SS officer charged with masacring Jews told a war crimes court today his SS battalion masqueraded as a choral society for the 1939 invasion of Poland.

Hans-Walter Zech-Nenntwich, one of five former SS officers on trial for the 1941 murders of 5,200 Russian Jews, said his battalion put on civilian clothes and traveled to Danzig a few days before the war began.

Danzig, now the Polish city of Gdansk, was a free city under Nazi influence at the time of the German invasion of Poland. Sending the SS battalion there put the troops well inside the borders of Poland.

Zech-Nenntwich said that after the war broke out Sept. 1, 1939, the "choral society" put its black elite guard uniforms and jackboots on and rode into Poland.

Zech-Nenntwich, who defected to the British in 1943 and made anti-German broadcasts, has become a prosperous auto parts manufacturer since the war. But his past as an SS officer was uncovered and he was brought to trial.

Today, he denied the charges of shooting at least eight Jewish women.

"I affirm myself innocent," he told the court. "I was there but I killed no one."

He referred to German-occupied Pinsk in Russia, where Himmler ordered the Jews captured by Zech-Nenntwich's battalion shot.

Nuclear Test Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission conducted an underground test at its Nevada test site today as part of the "Plowshare" program to develop peaceful uses for nuclear explosives.

Cypriots Fire On British In Nicosia Area

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Armed Cypriots, in a display of growing anti-British feeling, opened fire on British soldiers today for the first time since the current Cyprus crisis began in December.

No casualties were reported.

British officials said irregular Cypriot soldiers in the Greek sector of Nicosia fired on a British patrol. The troops searched a nearby building and detained two Cypriots who later were released.

The British said that in the future no Greek Cypriot irregulars would be allowed to patrol the quarter. They will be replaced by official police.

The officials said they believed the incident was due to "individual actions of the irregulars rather than as part of a coordinated policy."

Though the incident was isolated and relatively harmless, it was significant in that the armed attack was the first on British troops sent to Cyprus to supervise a cease-fire between warring Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

First Motel Burns

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — The historic Bakersfield Inn, the first motel in the world and at one time the largest, was damaged by fire last night as flames apparently broke out in the attic shortly after 9 p.m. and spread through the kitchen, dining room, business office, lobby, bar and an upstairs wing.

Nikita Peace Appeal Gets Pope's Attention

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has promised Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev he will give "maximum attention" to Khrushchev's Dec. 31 note to world heads of state, it was learned today.

A high vatican source said the pope sent a verbal note to Khrushchev through the Russian ambassador to Italy, Semen Kozyrev. The apostolic nuncio to Italy, Msgr. Carlo Grano, delivered the note to Kozyrev Tuesday.

Khrushchev's message was an appeal to the heads of state to resolve territorial disputes by talks instead of by arms.

The pope replied he was "grateful for the gesture" Khrushchev made by sending him the note, and proposed "to study the text with the maximum attention."

The pope, in addition to being spiritual leader of the world's half a billion Catholics, qualifies as head of state as the sovereign of Vatican City.

The pope told Khrushchev that, although the vatican does not involve itself in territorial disputes and negotiations, it favors whatever means "pursue the aim of justly defending and reinforcing peace among states."

He said the Vatican favored the pursuit of such aims when attempted "through sincere and constructive negotiations."

In the note to Khrushchev, the Pope referred to his own speeches in Bethlehem during his early January Holy Land visit where he launched "an appeal for mutual accord among peoples."

U.S., Russia At Odds Over Disarm Conference Agenda

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union today reached an apparent stalemate in discussions on an agenda for the 17-nation disarmament conference.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin demanded negotiations be held first on a world-wide reduction of military budgets.

U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster said discussions should cover more than one subject and that the United States "cannot limit itself to any set budget requirements in the light of present world tensions."

Tsarapkin said Moscow is ready "to agree right now" to 10 to 15 per cent budget cuts. He rejected President Lyndon B. Johnson's proposal for a freeze on the production of missiles and nuclear bombers.

Foster said "the best way to attain budget reductions would be to cut off the production of certain armaments."

An American spokesman said Foster and Tsarapkin, in their private meetings as conference co-chairmen, "have been unable to agree on an agenda."

"We are not opposed to discussion of budget reductions but we want other subjects to be discussed as well," the spokesman said.

The spokesman also said Congress would have to approve any such measure, which is "one internal difficulty."

The United States pointed out that, although the Soviets reduced their budget by 600 million rubles, spending on nuclear research increased.

The American spokesman said it would be obvious that the United States would reduce its budget "only in the terms of its own national security."

The United States has already cut its budget by one billion dollars.

Glenn Busy On New Type Orbit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Today is the second anniversary of John H. Glenn Jr.'s orbital flight, but the astronaut-turned-politician isn't planning anything special to mark the occasion.

He is in Columbus, cleaning up last-minute details in preparation for the start of his campaign March 1 for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Ohio. He is challenging the incumbent, U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young.

Glenn has said repeatedly he will not become active politically until his retirement from the Marine Corps is effective at the end of this month. He resigned from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration last month.

MACY'S SAN RAFAEL, FOURTH AND COURT, GLENWOOD 6-3333: OPEN MONDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY 9:30 TO 9 THIS WEEK

Junior Chamber Sets 'Ambassador' Tour

A "Citizen Ambassador" tour of seven major cities in Europe, including Moscow, will be made in August under the sponsorship of the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the national "People to People" program headed by ex-president Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A meeting of persons interested in participating in the program will be held at 7:30 p.m., March 12 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Rafael, William W. Henderson, junior chamber of commerce president, announced today.

The delegates will leave Marin County Aug. 3 for Washington, D.C., where they will be briefed by State Department officials, United States Information Agency representatives, and California legislators on current international problems.

The group will then go to Paris, Moscow, Prague, Vienna, Munich, Berlin, and London.

Time has been allotted in the itinerary for the delegates to visit homes and offices in each country, Henderson said.

"The tour is not intended to be just another vacation trip," he added.

"We hope to attract internationally minded individuals who will take part actively in lessening the tensions of the world by increasing international understanding through person-to-person contact."

FILINGS

three council candidates from the distaff side, believed to be an unprecedented number in any Marin city election.

Mrs. O'Hara Chapin of 16 Cazneau Avenue filed her petition for Sausalito City Council late yesterday. She is a 10-year-resident, a library trustee and former recreation commissioner. Her husband is on the news staff of the San Francisco Chronicle, along with Melvin S. Wax, another Sausalito Council candidate.

Mrs. Shirley J. Kindred of 38 Glen Drive, a medical secretary, filed today.

Third woman in the Sausalito field is Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), who filed earlier.

Others filing on the last day in Sausalito were:

John J. Gallas of 203 Third Street, supervising librarian of Novato Unified School District, who (like Mrs. Owen) was an unsuccessful candidate two years ago.

BELVEDERE

The last-morning rush turned Belvedere from a two-position two-man election to a wide open affair.

The six filing today are:

William H. Rafter of 226 Bay View Avenue, co-owner of the Home and Land Co. at 950 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley.

Edwin J. Drechsel of 316 San Rafael Avenue, West Coast regional representative of U.S. News and World Report.

MILL VALLEY

Three candidates filed in Mill Valley today to swell the city council field to eight. They are:

Dr. Albert E. White of 164 Locust Avenue, an M.D. with Permanente Medical Center Clinic in San Rafael.

Dr. Robert F. Palmer of 15 Tamalpais Avenue, a neurosurgeon with office in San Francisco.

Holbrook T. Mitchell of 115 Elinor Avenue.

Filing earlier were George D. Monardo and Michael Wornum, incumbents; John Finn III, George E. Wickham, and Philip J. Planert.

FAIRFAX

Three council candidates were added to the list today in Fairfax. They are:

Stan Wilsey of 110 Toyon Drive, incumbent, an investigator for the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

Peter Arrigoni Jr. of 35 Oak Tree Lane, a securities broker.

NOVATO

Petitions were filed today by Eugene R. Trombley of 1438 Buchanan Street, owner of Trombley's Novato Hardware Co., and Robert J. Manthey of 8 Cypress Court, teaching principal at the county juvenile hall school, to bring the field to six.

Filed previously were M. E. Babe Silva, incumbent mayor; J. Wayne Womack, former mayor; William Jack Adams and Douglas M. Merrill.

LARKSPUR

A last-minute candidate appeared today with filing for council by Colin K. White of 32 Olive Avenue, a printing supervisor.

Other candidates in the race are Vaughn Marker, incumbent, Henry Bocco, and Earl J. O'Grady.

SAN ANSELMO

Incumbent City Councilman John M. Reichmuth of 405 Redwood Road filed his petition this morning.

Also in the race are Arthur W. Smith, incumbent mayor, and Duane C. Ragan.

It will be "no contest" in Corte Madera, with incumbents Charles F. Pendleton and William W. Collier the only candidates, and in Ross, where candidates are incumbents Harry C. Scott Jr. and William C. Bricca plus Peter McAndrew, with incumbent Russell G. Smith not seeking re-election.

The unopposed clerk candidates are Mrs. Miriam Brecka in Sausalito; Mrs. William Lewis, incumbent, in Ross; Mrs. Anita M. Gannon, incumbent, in San Anselmo, and Mrs. Alice Leonesio, incumbent, in Fairfax.

Unopposed treasurer candidates are Mrs. Dorothy McLaughlin in Fairfax, incumbent Edwin S. Long in Sausalito, Eleanor T. Muller in Ross, and incumbent George W. Prydz in San Anselmo.

Baby Taken From Ex-Mate; Woman Held

Sausalito police last night arrested Laura Eustace of San Francisco on a charge of disobeying a court order after she allegedly went to her ex-husband's Sausalito home Tuesday night and took her 2-year-old baby away while Eustace slept. She was placed in county jail.

Conrad Eustace, who runs a masonry business in San Francisco, told police that his former wife arrived at his home at 42 Marion Avenue about 6 p.m. and took the child, Vallerie. Police returned the child to Eustace last night.

Lunchtimes Troubled At Redwood High

Consolidating two lunch periods into one at Redwood High School as part of a crackdown on student offenses has caused problems.

Student body president John Burke has anounced that students will be fined 50 cents to $2 for jostling and shoving in lines in the covered eating area during the one lunch period.

Members of the high school legislative assembly have noted that these offenses have increased since the lunch periods were consolidated.

Burke and Principal Donald Kreps agree that student government officers should gradually takeover "policing" duties of teachers who have been stationed at 11 locations throughout the school in an effort to crackdown on prowling, smoking, littering, and other offenses.

Additional vending machines have been installed in the eating area in an effort to speed up food service. Three types of ice cream and four kinds of soft drinks are available through the machines. Three of the vending machines contain more than 30 different types of candy bars. Another machine dispenses potato chips.

Kreps said the machines were installed as a supplement to the food dispensed at the canteen, as dessert items.

"There has been a decline in violations," Kreps said, since the crackdown went into effect last week.

Chinatown Dragon Parade Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO —Chinatown stages its traditional New Year's parade Saturday night, ending 10 days of festivities celebrating the year of the dragon, 4662.

The parade at 7 p.m. will cap nearly a year of effort by craftsmen in Hong Kong whose collection of parade trappings include everything from a dragon boat which carries a dozen oarsmen and several musicians, to fish, bird and animal floats.

Reigning over the parade along Chinatown's Grant Avenue will be Miss Chinatown USA, Josie Leong, an 18-year-old Sacramento City College Student.

Travel Agency Regulation Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State regulation of travel agencies should be added to the agenda of the 1964 legislature, a state senate committee told Gov. Edmund G. Brown yesterday.

Sen. Alan Short (D-Stockton) asked Brown to put the matter on special call in order to "prevent a recurrence of the recent fiasco involving California travelers."

Short said the senate fact finding committee on business and commerce also wanted the governor to put regulation of the furniture and bedding industries on special call.

Japan To Up Trade With Communist China

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Japan's Ambassador Ryuji Takeuchi served notice today Japan intends to step up its trade with Communist China and said it may well be that "East Asia stability will be furthered by the gradual development of this trade."

In a speech prepared for the World Affairs Council, the Japanese envoy emphasized that Japan's trade relationships with mainland China and along with it the introduction of "new thinking and new opportunities" may well be in the interest of stability in the Far East.

District to ask for the delay to Nov. 3. She said a San Anselmo bond issue scheduled for April 14 decision was in jeopardy.

She said the bond issue is designed to preclude the need for more bonds by the elementary district for five or more years, but asked how that could be explained when the next month campaigning would be underway on formation of a new district which could float new bonds.

She also agreed with the superintendents' letter that there was not enough time to inform the voters.

The superintendents' letter, signed by San Anselmo Supt. Stephen L. Parodi, chairman of the Tamalpais Union High School District Superintendents Study Council, said the superintendents supported the Nov. 3 date, 8-1. Superintendents who voted for the delay were not identified in the letter.

MacLaury spoke up to say trustees should be elected on a different date because otherwise some persons might be in the awkward position of campaigning for office at the same time they were campaigning against the creation of the district which the office would serve.

Committee member Robert E. Rogers said that no matter what date was picked, some elementary district would probably be hurt. He asked that the June 2 date be kept, and the committee, except for Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Short, agreed.

Nancy Swadesh Urges No Demo Senate Stand

Nancy Swadesh of Mill Valley is one of five prominent Democrats who have signed a letter urging delegates to the California Democratic Council not to endorse a candidate for U. S. Senate this weekend.

Mrs. Ann Alanson of San Francisco, the party's Northern California women's chairman, heads the list of the signers.

In effect, the letter urges delegates to the convention in Long Beach to cast blank ballots.

Several possible candidates will be considered for the Senate post held by Clair Engle. They include Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, State Controller Alan Cranston and Rep. James Roosevelt.

Most television sets cannot now receive UHF transmission, but most can be adopted with converters that cost about $35. However, in two months, all new sets must be built to receive UHF, according to a recent FCC ruling.

"This is what makes our application feasible," Banta said.

Oswald's Brother Cooperative Witness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The brother of Lee Harvey Oswald emerged tight-lipped from his first three hours of testimony today before a commission investigating the Kennedy assassination. A commission member described him as a "very cooperative witness."

Robert Oswald, elder brother of the former Marine who was alleged to have slain the late President John F. Kennedy, made no response whatever to questions by newsmen on leaving the closed commission hearing room.

The record number of changes for a team of ringers — 21,600 in 12 hours 58 minutes —was set at Winsford, England, in 1950. In 1761, at Leeds, 40,320 changes were rung in 27 hours but this was not accepted as a record because the ringers worked in relays.

'Officer' Hearing Postponed

Preliminary hearing in the case of Paul James, 31, charged with impersonating an officer at Hamilton Air Force Base, was postponed today by the United States Commissioner in San Francisco until 10:30 a.m. next Thursday.

The commissioner's office said at that time the district attorney must present its evidence, the federal probation office revoke James's parole, or the case will be dismissed.

A report on medical examination of James was not ready, for a hearing today, causing the delay.

James allegedly went to the air base Feb. 6 and represented himself to be with the Office of Special Investigation doing work for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, air police reported.

Paul R. Jones, federal probation officer of the Northern District of California, said James was paroled to his office July 10, 1963, on a conviction for violation of the Dyer Act. (taking a stolen vehicle across a state line) in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The parole would normally expire this November, he said. James served time in the federal correctional institution in Lompoc, Santa Barbara County, Jones said. Air police said he also was arrested by San Francisco police Jan. 9 wearing a summer Air Force uniform with a captain's insignia.

Bahia Plant On Novato Agenda

Novato Sanitary District board will discuss design and specifications for the proposed Bahia treatment plant at 8 p.m. today in the Western Telephone Co. engineering office, 501 Davidson Street, Novato.

The plant is scheduled for construction near the Petaluma River north of the Black Point bridge to serve the Bahia development north of Novato.

Also on the aganda is the problem of overlapping jurisdiction for garbage collection in Bel Marin Keys, under dispute by the sanitary district, Bel Marin Keys Community Services District, and the developer.

Boat Damaged; Hunt Called Off

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Coos Bay suffered an eight-inch hole at the waterline today and suspended her search for 14 men missing from the British freighter Ambassador in the North Atlantic.

Coast Guard headquarters here said it would be necessary to shore up the hole before resumption of the search could be considered.

There was no immediate indication how long the job would take or whether the search would be renewed.

Belli Keeps Dismissing Prospective Jurors

DALLAS (UPI) — Prospective jurors were dismissed one after the other at Jack Ruby's murder trial today and defense attorney Melvin Belli of San Francisco repeatedly demanded anew that the trial be transferred to another city.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown refused the demands for a change of venue during loud and sometimes angry clashes between the opposing attorneys.

UNITY

Jose area in time to put the unification question on the November ballot; but he said he thought the southern area might take more time.

Assistant secretary Edwin L. Blackmore reported that he has received answers from Booz-Allen and Hamilton, consulting firm which made a $12,000 study of unification in the area, to questions asked by each of the school districts. The consultants recommended unification on the lines mentioned by Marshall.

In the case of the Tomales District, a suggestion that the augmented committee for the area hold a meeting as soon as possible died after it was decided the committee might merely add to dissension in the area.

Blackmore explained the proposed election to unionize the elementary districts within the Tomales Joint Union High School District would have the effect of creating a unified district as soon as a small area in Sonoma County was transferred to the Analy High School District.

'Put Up Or Shut Up,' Aide Tells Legion

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Veterans affairs director Joseph Farber asked the American Legion yesterday to either suggest a better veterans program or "shut up."

Farber made the statement in a news conference called to answer charges of William Kreitz of Inglewood on his administration of the State Veterans Home and veterans education program.

He charged that Kreitz was trying to "harass and attack this administration to build up the legion's membership."

"It's about time the state commander of the American Legion produces a better program to the legislature if he has one," Farber said. "I want him to either put up or shut up."

He also charged that the legion's newspaper, the California Legionnaire, was being used to "spread hate and untruths."

Behr To Speak On Shoreline

Supervisor Peter H. Behr will discuss "Shoreline Development in Southern Marin" at a gathering of Democrats in Alta Mira Hotel, Sausalito, Monday at 8 p.m.

The Sausalito Democratic Club is sponsoring the talk. A no-host cocktail party will follow.

Sausalito Democratic Club delegates to the California Democratic Council convention in Long Beach this weekend are president Robert S. Politzer, Joan McKinney, Robert O. Berdahl, and Emerson Burnett.

Startled By Cars

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP)—When a prisoner was released from the Minnesota Penitentiary after 31 years behind the walls, his first comment was: "Hey look at the cars; they look like they were made for midgets." His last look was in 1932, when cars had 30-inch wheels and room enough inside for a top hat.

The 1924 outbreak of foot and mouth disease in California necessitated the slaughter of 22,214 deer in the Stanislaus National Forest.

Woman Turns Up 27 Years After 'Dying'

The woman who turned up alive is Mrs. Judith Wagley, 56, last heard from by her relatives in 1937 after she left South Dakota.

HUSBAND'S STORY

Her husband, George Sanders, said or wrote shortly before her "death" in 1937 that he had killed his wife and thrown her body in a river. With no contrary evidence, relatives accepted his story.

A few days ago, a social worker at Tulare-King County Hospital in this little Sierra mountain community wrote to Rev. Kenneth Thurow of a Kadoka, S.D., Lutheran church asking for birth infomation on a woman who turned out to be Mrs. Wagley — born as Judith Oien.

Mrs. Wagley has worked for the hospital for 15 years, then became a patient when a recent stroke left her partially paralyzed and with impaired speech.

MINISTER CALLS

Her brother, Einar Oien of Rapid City, S.D., was contacted by the minister, talked to Mrs. Wagley by telephone Sunday, was convinced she is his long-lost sister, and has set out with relatives to join her here for a reunion.

Mrs. Wagley has also learned that her minister son and two daughters live in in Texas and have 11 children amongst them.

Stinson Condition Good

Marin County Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson remained in good condition today in Novato Hospital, where he is undergoing tests for a stomach ailment. He wa staken to the hospital Tuesday from his office in the courthouse after suffering severe pains.

RENO DUSTS OFF REPORT OF FOG, SMOG

RENO (AP) — A bit of the desert came to Reno yesterday.

"I have had about 300 calls asking where the smog is coming from," a Weather Bureau aide said. "But it is not smog or fog, it's dust."

A forecaster explained:

"Gusty winds—though not particularly strong — carried the dust aloft for several thousand feet from desert areas around Fallon, Lovelock and Wadsworth. This is not unusual, but it is unusual for the dust to be carried as far as Reno."

Bolinas To Seek Restroom Bids

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees last night agreed to ask for bids, to be returned May 13, on new restroom facilities at Bolinas School. Bids are to go out April 15.

Mrs. Mildred Sadler, teacher at Stinson Beach School, reported on the use of the Scientific Research Associates method of teaching reading and said she was very pleased with the program as used by her fourth graders.

Trustees will next meet at 8 p.m., March 11 at Bolinas School to discuss the 1964-65 budget.

College Student Elections Held

Freshman candidates are: Daniel L. Beard of Novato, Thomas Combs of Mill Valley, Judith Howland of San Rafael, and Wendy Hardcastle of Novato.

Balloting began today and will continue tomorrow between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Murder Charge Filed In Fatal Dallas Fire

DALLAS (UPI)—Restaurant operator Charles D. Bryant, 32, faced rare murder-by-arson charges today in a Sunday fire which killed four fireman and gutted three businesses.

"We believe we've got a good circumstantial case," Fire Capt. D. G. Dabbs said.

Bryant's Golden Pheasant restaurant was insured for $70,000. The fire started in the basement of the restaurant and spread to the other buildings.

Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade yesterday filed arson charges against Bryant. When the suspect posted $20,000 bond, Wade filed the murder by arson charge in the death of Fireman Jerry K. Henderson, 29.

Henderson and three other fire fighters were killed in the basement of the restaurant when a floor collapsed, burying them beneath tons of flaming rubble. Police said murder by arson charges may be filed in the other three deaths.

Fire officials said a Dallas laborer told them he had been offered $1,000 to set fire to the Golden Pheasant. He said he refused the offer.

A veteran justice of the peace who processed the charge said it was the first time he had ever done so.

Greenbrae Girl Tops Honor Roll

Redwood High School senior Faye M. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Brown of 40 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, has been named to the honor roll for the fall semester at the school.

Miss Brown had a straight A average for the fall semester and has maintained that average for her seven semesters at the high school. If she maintains the average for the current semester, she will be the first student to graduate from the high school with a straight A average, said school officials.

Conservationists Receive Reports

Reports on the activities of several conservation - minded organizations in Marin County were presented to the Marin Conservation Council last night at the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

The council, composed of representatives of county conservation groups, agreed to work toward assuring public access to the fishing area in the Paper Mill Creek-White House Pool district, said Mrs. Joan Polsdorfer, recording secretary.

Reports also were presented on the status of attempts to preserve the Richardson Bay area, new development for Paradise Park on the Tiburon peninsula, and saving tidelands in Corte Madera, she said.

Ex-Engle Aide Says Senator Not Ready

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sen. Clair Engle's 1958 campaign manager says he doesn't think Engle is "well enough at the moment" to run for re-election.

Dan A. Kimball, board chairman of Aerojet-General Corp., said yesterday that the Democratic senator is one of his oldest a:d best friends." But he added that he would support him only if he is sure that he is able to run.

Santa Maria Firm Is Moving Headquarters To Novato Site

Santa Maria contractors Roberts and Aguirre, Inc., who have had an office at 799 Sutro Avenue, Novato, since last May, have started construction on a new two-story concrete block and stucco building at Grant Avenue and Seventh Street, Novato.

This will be the firm's new headquarters—in fact, some of the office equipment has already been brought up from Santa Maria. Roberts and Aguirre will occupy 1,500 of the 10,000 square feet, and the remainder will be leased out for other offices. Completion is expected in May. The building was designed by Avila Enterprises in Santa Rosa.

YOUNG BROTHERS FURNITURE CO. (Young Brothers Television Stores) has recently purchased a 3.7-acre site in Novato on Highway 101 at Olive Avenue, and is now working on plans for a commercial complex. Harold K. Armos, president of the firm, says there are quite a few preliminaries to be worked out before the picture can be presented in detail. But the firm, with two stores in San Francisco, is contemplating another one here "if Marin County growth justifies it."

ANOTHER BUILDING is being started in the J. B. Rice Center on Auburn Street, San Rafael. This one has 8,000 square feet and will be located adjacent to the new Marin Pet Hospital. It will be built by Myers Construction Co.; Edward Hageman and Associates is the designer. Completion is expected within another 60 days. Space will be leased.

WILLIAM J. HOUSE JR.
Assigned to Milwaukee

DALE E. WALTER, chief executive officer of the Redwood National Bank in Napa, has announced that stock in the bank offered to Napa area residents has been heavily oversubscribed.

Last month Redwood shareholders approved a measure to increase the authorized and outstanding capital stock in the amount of 6,000 shares exclusively for Napa residents. The sale of stock began early this month at $41 a share. It ended just a few days ago with buyers asking for more.

Redwood's branch is expected to open at Second and School Street by the first of May.

NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER at the San Rafael office of Title Insurance and Trust Co. is Arvid G. Erickson, who comes here from Ventura via the Los Angeles home office. He joined the firm in 1956 as a searcher-draftsman and subsequently has served as title examiner, subdivision consultant, administrative assistant and senior analyst. Erickson, his wife Gwen and their two sons have taken up residence in Sleepy Hollow.

ARVID G. ERICKSON
New title assistant

WILLIAM J. HOUSE JR. of Terra Linda has been promoted by the Miller Brewing Co. to assistant to the director of the sales staff. He has been regional sales manager for 11 western states with headquarters in San Francisco and will now make his office at the brewery's Milwaukee headquarters.

BYRNE A. BRAY, formerly associated with Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn., has opened First San Francisco Mortgage Co., with offices at 220 Battery Street, San Francisco. Although only one month old, says Bray, the business has already recorded upwards of one million dollars in loans.

COTE D'AZUR APARTMENTS in Sausalito, which converted last fall from co-ops to leased units, reports that more than two-thirds of the apartments have been taken. New entrance and lobby decor have recently been completed.

MEANING OF TAX CUT TO AVERAGE EARNER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The average taxpayer will get an annual tax cut of about 20 per cent when the compromise bill worked out by Senate-House conferees becomes fully effective.

Two-thirds of the rate cuts for individuals will be effective this year, retroactive to Jan. 1, and the remainder on Jan. 1, 1965.

The following tables prepared by the Treasury reflect the tax "savings" for selected income groups. The figures assume all income is from wages and salaries and that normal deductions are taken.

Clear-Cut Gain In Irregular Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was higher and driving toward new peaks in the averages at the close today.

Strength in steels, motors, rubbers and selected issues pushed an irregular market to a clear-cut gain.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 4.26 million yesterday.

Rock Island rose more than a point, Chicago and North Western more than 2, Milwaukee Road and Pennsylvania Railroad about a point, all touching new yearly highs.

New York Central also advanced more than a point. Several other carriers gained fractions.

The rail advance seemed to follow a published report that rail unions had offered a new basis for settling the five-year-old work rules dispute.

General Motors was active and up nearly a point while most other leading auto stocks gained fractions. Studebaker eased.

Cigarette issues worked generally higher, with Liggett and Myers up more than a point and Lorillard ahead fractionally. Reynolds was down a fraction.

International Harvester was up a point following a raised dividend. Also up about a point or more were Boeing, U.S. Gypsum and U.S. Smelting.

Utilities and chemicals were soft. Losses of about a point were shown by Sears, Roebuck, Du Pont and Union Carbide. CBS (new) was active and up a point. Smith-Douglas rose about 3 and J. I. Case a point.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly higher in moderate trading.

EVEN TOPPING IT

First Quarter Of Year Living Up To Its Billing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The first quarter of the year is living up to advance billing and even topping it a bit.

With the quarter past the halfway mark, the gains over a year ago are marked in most segments of the economy, as expected. Many are also pulling ahead of the fast pace of the final weeks of 1963, even though a seasonal lull would be more in line with tradition.

The rise in personal incomes strikes closest home for most persons. A significant part of the increase is traced to a faster business pace, although the biggest gain is due to government actions. Veterans insurance dividends were paid early and government employes got pay raises.

Ahead is another boost—not to gross personal incomes but to disposable incomes after taxes — the federal tax cut which should increase take-home pay in March.

But the government also reports that in January "almost all major industries" showed advances in employment and therefore in payroll outlays.

Along with this, industrial production edged higher than in December to hit a record of 127.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average, compared with 119.2 a year ago. In 1963 the index dropped in January, but then rose sharply until July. Optimists are hoping that from today's much higher base, industrial production will show a good gain in the Spring.

Housing starts also have turned up smartly — 9 per cent higher than in December and topping year ago figures by 26 per cent. Most sections of the nation, except the north-central region, shared in the advance.

Common Market For U.S., Canada?

TORONTO, Ont.—A common market for the United States and Canada is "in the making," Chrysler Corp. president Lynn A. Townsend said here today.

"We are going to be forced by elementary business logic to act in line with what we all recognize—that our two countries form a natural market of magnificient size and potential, a market that should not be broken in two by artificial political barriers," Townsend said.

Initially, he said, the new concept will probably be limited to trade between the two countries, but as other countries in this hemisphere become strong enough to trade on freer terms, the scope of the tariff free area may expand.

New Company Forms

OAKLAND — A new company, Kaiser Aluminum Kakel Werk GMBH, has been formed by Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. to construct and operate an aluminum rod and cable mill in West Berlin.

Architecture, Not Floor Area 'Most Important'

SAN FRANCISCO — Architectural quality rather than floor area ratios is the major factor in appraising the value of building, John O. Merrill, partner in Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, told Northern California Real Estate appraisers last night.

Merrill, addressing the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, said appropriateness to surroundings, quality of architectural concept, provision for open space and amenities at street level are positive factors in the value of a building.

The current controversy of a 20-or 16-to-1 ratio in San Francisco will have little effect on the architectural quality of buildings that will be put up in San Francisco.

He said the ratio limitation does not assure that buildings will not be built that alter the sky line and are architecturally harmful to their surroundings and ignore the street level character and amenities.

Electronics Firm Earnings Increase

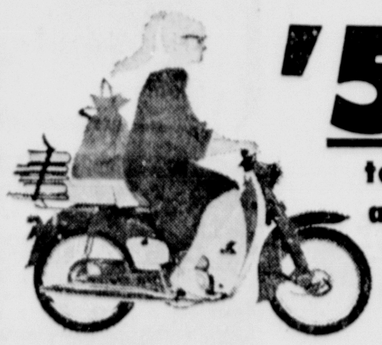

SAN CARLOS—Eitel-McCullough, Inc., has reported increased annual earnings for the third consecutive year although sales in 1963 were lower.

In a letter to shareholders, W. W. Eitel, president of the electronics company, said Eimac earned $835,000 or 45 cents a share on the 1,842,913 shares outstanding on consolidated sales of $27,428,000. In 1962 the firm earned $757,392 or 41 cents per share on sales of $29,451,669 on the same number of shares.

Farm Machinery

NEW YORK — The current world-wide farm machinery market is about 4.5 billion dollars annually—an increase of almost 50 per cent from slightly more than three billion dollars six years ago, A. A. Thornbrough, president of Massey-Ferguson Ltd., told a meeting of the New York Society of Security Analysts today.

GENTLEMEN COMPARE BLONDES

CORE Tries New Weapon On Market

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Employees of a San Francisco supermarket indicated today they were helpless in coping with "Operation Snafu," latest civil rights strategem.

Last night about 35 white and Negro members of the Congress of Racial Equality entered the Lucky Stores Lakeshore Plaza market, loaded shopping carts with groceries, wheeled them to checkers—and abandoned them.

CORE claims that Lucky does not hire enough Negroes. The store replied that under an agreement reached four months ago, 28 per cent of new clerks hired have been Negroes.

"We're under strict orders," store employee said. "If any one of us so much as lays a hand on one of these people, we're fired right now. What can you do? We had to work until after midnight putting the stuff back on the shelves."

Store employees estimated that about 50 customers were inconvenienced by the "shop-in." It marked the second time in a week CORE had demonstrated at the Lakeshore store.

Labor Council Heads Re-Elected Unapposed

Re-elected without contest by the Marin County Labor Council last night were president James Smith of Meat Cutters Union 115, vice president Charles Weers of Sheetmetal Workers Union 75, and secretary-treasurer Hugh Cassidy of State Employees Union 411.

Smith is a resident of Willow Avenue, Fairfax.

In the only election in which there was a contest, for the executive board, Andrew Bahr of Typographical Union 21, L. C. Brooks of Laborers Union 291, Farrell Crone of Barbers Union 582, Paul Crumley of Carpenters Union 35, James Issel of Machinists Union 238, Mike Pechina of Bartenders Union 126, and Harry Reed of Painters Union 83 won election. Eighth contestant with seven openings was Loyd Ward of Carpenters Union 1710.

Elected without opposition to the board of trustees were Teresa Haag of Office Employees Local 3, John Irwin of Teachers Local 1077, and Albert D. Mello of State Employees Local 411.

Most unions disclosed they had good or full employment. The only slack in employment was reported in the Operating Engineers who are faced with a large out of work list.

Farrell Crone of the Barbers Union reported his union was co-operating with the Marin Chapter of the American Cancer Society in calling attention to customers skin blemishes that should be medically examined. Crone explained that barbers must study some dermatology to pas their license examination.

The council voted to write state legislatures urging more state support to public schools.

Kentfield Youth Injured In Crash

Michael Allen Smith, 16, of 80 Upper Briar Road, Kentfield, riding the motorbicycle south on Magnolia Avenue on the way to Redwood High School, was thrown off when it hit the vehicle being backed by Leroy Annis, 38, of 1111 Fourth Street, San Rafael, acocrding to Larkspur police.

Pistols Stolen From Tiburon Parked Car

Two pistols were stolen from a Volkswagen sedan parked on Main Street in Tiburon, owner Richard B. Burger of Lafayette told sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Burger said his car was parked at Pearson Yacht Corp. at 1 Main Street, his place of business. The car is used by several persons and is seldom locked, he said. The pistols were a .38-caliber nickel-plated Smith and Wesson, and a .25-caliber blue Browning automatic.

Yorty Says Brown Backs Off On Wyman

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mayor Samual W. Yorty said yesterday he had done a large part of what he wanted to do to California Democratic Central Committee Chairman Eugene Wyman by "stopping him from taking over the Democratic convention."

Yorty said he believed Gov. Edmund G. Brown "backed off" from commitments on a delegation to the convention which was—according to Yorty—pro-Wyman.

Yorty said that Brown earlier had told him that all delegates would have to back Wyman for national committeeman for California.

The mayor said that when he disclosed the fact that all delegates would have to back Wyman, so much opposition was aroused that Brown was forced to "backtrack."

"I think the Democratic Party is in danger due to the fact that the official machinery has fallen into the hands of people who are mercenary and selfish," Yorty said.

Wyman, in a counter statement said, "I don't think loyal Democrats will pay much attention to a man who supported Richard Nixon against the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960, and who, even now, admits he wouldn't know who to vote for between President Johnson and Nixon in 1964."

Yorty indicatetd he might form a delegation to the convention and will support the president.

The United States exports about 370 million dollars of fruit and vegetables annually.

Behr: South Marin In Citizens' Hands

The future of Southern Marin is in the hands of its citizens, for "the price of good community planning is vigilance," said County Supervisor Peter H. Behr at yesterday's meeting of the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council.

He added, "it's earier to be vigilant on a city level than a county level."

Behr emphasized the need for density control and said the Tiburon Peninsula and Mill Valley "have probably suffered the least change because people provided the yardstick."

Behr was queried about Paradise Beach County Park.

"Wonderful plan," said Behr, "but it will cost almost $250,000 so will have to be done in phases as money becomes available."

Asked by John Hoffmire, president of the council, about the Tiburon parking situation, Behr said, "It's bad.—However, we're in the happy position of waiting for your incorporation election."

Mrs. John Barnes of Belvedere asked if Marin County could halt bay filling. "No," said Behr, "Too expensive."

Bill As Tribute To Kennedy Asked

HONOLULU (UPI) — Rev. Martin Luther King told an overflow audience at the University of Hawaii yesterday that "the greatest tribute the United States can give President John F. Kennedy is to pass the civil rights bill in its present form."

King was one of several speakers, representing widely varied viewpoints, invited to participate in the university students' civil rights week program.

King, in an obvious reference to the black muslims, told the crowd at Andrews Amphitheater that "black supremacy is no solution. . . ."

Skiff Vanishes From San Rafael

Theft of $50 skiff from San Rafael Canal near Montecito Shopping Center was reported to police yesterday by Raymond D. Friberg of 19 Perry Walk, San Rafael.

He said the small green boat was missing since Tuesday.

Catania Sound, 1541 Fourth Street, reported yesterday two tape recorders worth a total of $220 had been stolen, apparently during store open hours.

450 File For 120 California Legislative Jobs

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—All but two of California's legislators whose terms run out this year were signed up today to try for re-election, but they didn't scare off the competition.

Assistant secretary of state Walter C. Stutler said by yesterday's deadline an estimated 450 persons had filed declarations of their intentions to run for the 40-member senate or the 80-member assembly.

Stutler said the only legislators whose terms end but who did not file for re-election were Sen. John A. Murdy (R-Santa Ana), who has announced his retirement, and Assemblyman Phillip Burton (D-San Francisco), who was elected to congress this week.

He said three senators appeared to be running without opposition: Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville); Robert D. Williams (D-Hanford), and Stanlew Arnold (D-Susanville).

Pilot Forced By Gunman Into Cuba Flight Returns To U.S.

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—Richard Wright, the pilot who was forced to fly by gunpoint to Havana Tuesday, landed unexpectedly at this southernmost Florida City today.

Wright, 23, had been expected to arrive in Miami on his return from Havana in the hijacked plane.

He was held overnight by Cuban military authorities after arriving in Havana but was released late yesterday. He said in Havana he was treated "very politely" by Cuban authorities.

Wright, whose plane was hijacked during what he thought was a routine flight to Key West with two Cuban exiles aboard, taxied up to the Key West terminal in his twin-engine brown and tan Piper Apache and was whisked into a room by officials from the U.S. Immigration Service.

Man, 27, Jailed On Prowl Count

Joseph Daniel Buchnell, 27, of 600 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, was booked in Marin charges of prowling and failure to properly identify himself.

He was released shortly afterward on $166 bail pending a hearing at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in Municipal Court.

San Rafael police arrested Buchnell at Mission and Cottage avenues about 12:05 a.m., minutes after Robert Ludwig Gadient, 42 Forbes Avenue, reported seeing a man enter his back yard and peer into a bedroom. Buchnell matched Gadient's description of the prowler, police said.

Strawberry Rec Boundaries Realignment Being Sought

Strawberry Recreation District directors have applied to the Local Agency Formation Commission for realignment of jagged boundaries along the district's west side.

The proposed new boundary would run down the center of Tiburon Boulevard to Highway 101 and follow the highway southward to Saucelito Canal.

Also discussed at last night's Strawberry board meeting were summer recreational activities, directors agreeing that last year's swimming program was successful and should be enlarged. Patricia M. Gowen, secretary, was asked to learn community wishes on other summer recreational activities and report March 18.

The board reviewed insurance coverage and decided to investigate adding state workmen's compensation for volunters who might work on such activities as building bleachers and dugouts.

Directors decided to investigate a possible contract with Strawberry Youth Sports, Inc., for its youth program. The group now provides baseball on a volunteer basis.

'64 Corvair Monza by Chevrolet

It's got a frisky new engine

(that puts superior traction under you)

'64 Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Some cars do best on the highway. Others seem tailor-made for city driving.

Then there's Corvair—that gets along just great most anywhere. Swishing along a highway. Scurrying around in traffic. Or wading through a soggy trail.

Take highway driving. Corvair's got a bigger new engine with horsepower up nearly 19% in the standard version. But in case figures don't impress you, wait until you head a Corvair for faraway places. You'll get the message.

Take city driving. Corvair's trim size, light steering (because the engine weight's in the rear) and flat cornering make anything from rush-hour driving to parking a cinch.

Take back-road driving. The weight of Corvair's engine bearing down on the rear wheels gives them remarkable gripping power on most any surface, whether it's loose, solid, dry, wet—or even snow covered.

Something else you can take note of, too: There's no radiator to overheat or run dry. No hoses to check or replace. No need for antifreeze. The engine's air cooled, the brakes self-adjusting.

QUAKER MARY'S MANTLE

Rare Particle Aids Probe Into Atoms

NEW YORK (AP) — A new discovery apparently takes scientists a giant step toward solving the most baffling of atomic secrets.

Using the world's most powerful atom-smasher, they found a rare atomic particle called omega minus.

In itself, the new particle is only one more among 80 to 100 nuclear particles discovered in the last dozen years.

The puzzle is why so many "animals" can be detected in or coming from the nuclei or hearts of atoms. There are so many that physicists call them the "nuclear zoo."

Finding one more animal could add to this headache.

But discovery of omega minus confirms a theory which could bring order out of the chaos in the zoo. This theory, known as the eightfold way, predicted that omega minus should exist and predicted very correctly what it should be like.

Now physicists can devise experiments that promise to explain what the hearts of atoms are really made of, how particles inter-react and stick together, or change from one form to another, or whatever it is that happens in this universe of inner space.

This is the meaning in the news yesterday that 33 physicists at Brookhaven, Upton, N.Y., have detected omega minus, using Brookhaven's half-mile-long Alternate Radient Synchrotron.

Omega minus, with negative electric charge, is invisible and lives only about 10 billionths of a second.

Sinatra's Voice 'Hard To Believe

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Frank Sinatra's famous voice was not immediately recognized by the kidnapers of his son when they first telephoned the crooner to negotiate payment of $240,000 ransom.

Attorney Milton A. Rudin, Sinatra's lawyer, testified for the government today in the trial of three men accused of kidnaping 20-year-old Frank Jr. Dec. 8 from a Lake Tahoe motel on the California-Nevada border.

"This doesn't sound like Sinatra to me," a voice said in taped recordings of the first conversation with the elder Sinatra. "It is, it is," Sinatra said, according to Rudin.

Rudin was called as a witness today following Sinatra's appearance on the stand yesterday in regard to calls between one of the three men on trial. The defendants are Barry Worthington Keenan, 23; John William Irwin, 42, and Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23.

Rudin said when the kidnaper was convinced he was speaking with the victim's father he assured Sinatra "your kid is in good shape. Don't worry about him."

West Marin Tax Drive Discussed

Fifteen persons attended last night's meeting of West Marin School District trustees to organize a campaign for passage of the school's March 17 tax election.

Precinct work was discussed and brochures explaining the election were handed out for distribution.

The district seeks an increase from $1.60 to $2.40 per $100 assessed valuation in the maximum general purpose tax. With the current $1.60, plus 22 cents for bond interest and redemption and 34 cents in override taxes, the total district tax is $2.16.

Puerto Rican Says Baker In Meat Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Puerto Rican politician Jose A. Benitez told Senate investigators that he voluntarily cut his "very good friend" Bobby Baker in on a finder's fee in a meat import deal.

Benitez testified he gave Baker "participation" because Baker, then secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, arranged in 1961 for him and a Puerto Rican meat dealer, Andres Lopez, to meet the Washington representatives of the Murchison interests in Texas.

The story of Baker's role in the meat deal had been told in testimony previously taken by the Senate Rules Committee, but Benitez gave it a splash of color.

He rattled off how in 1961 he came to Washington and enlisted Baker's help after Lopez told him he could provide cheaper meat for Puerto Ricans if he could get the output of the Murchisons' plant in Haiti.

One of the problems was to get clearance for the Haitian meat to enter Puerto Rico and the continental United States. This was granted by the Agriculture Department.

Benitez, a former Democratic chairman in Puerto Rico, was appointed by the late President John F. Kennedy in May 1961 as deputy high commissioner of the Pacific trust territory.

In earlier explorations of the meat deal, the Senate investigators received testimony that both the seller and the buyer of the meat are paying fees to the "finders" of the deal.

Benitez testified that he and his wife are still receiving about $250 a month as their share of the finder's fee, and said he assumes Baker is receiving a like amount.

Market In Bret Harte Is Looted

Burglars, possibly those who early Tuesday made off with 33 cases of champagne and beer from a nearby warehouse, last night looted Bret Harte Super Market, 93 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, of an estimated $400 in cash, liquor, meat and cigarettes, police reported.

The breaking, prying of a restroom window, was discovered at 8 a.m. by Tom Dieckmann, manager. A store spokesman said a shopping cart was used by the burglars to cart the supplies to the meat department exit.

The meat department cash register was cleaned of about $35, he added.

Lucky Lager Distributing Co., 44 DeLuca Place, was entered via a north window Tuesday and 32 cases of beer and one case of pink champagne was taken. The firm is located near the supermarket.

Hamilton Fallout Test Is Success

Hamilton Air Force Base reported "mission a complete success" today in a test of precautionary survival measures during simulated fallout conditions.

Military and civilian personnel not assigned to "essential functions" such as police and fire reported to shelters when sirens sounded at 9:45 a.m. "All clear" was sounded at 11:45.

Test exercises are held several times a year. Aircraft were not involved in the test.

GORDON McLENDON
Intended target — absent

MRS. MARY E. STONE
Shot went wild

DALLAS (UPI)—A free lance writer, blabbering charges of "Communist" and "Mafia," last night fired a gun wildly at an airline passenger she believed was Gordon McClendon, a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

McClendon, who was not near the airport, asked U.S. Atty. Genl. Robert Kennedy for a federal investigation "into an attempt upon the life of a federal candidate."

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Stone, 47, was knocked to the ground and disarmed. Police said charges of assault with intent to kill would be filed today. Police Lt. E. L. Cunningham said she was "pretty well emotionally disturbed."

W. D. Dyer, 48, of Dallas was about 15 feet from the woman when the shot was fired. The .32 caliber weapon jammed when she tried to shoot again. The bullet went wild and Dyer, whom she had mistaken for McLendon, boarded his flight for Chicago.

McLendon, 42, of Dallas, faces Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.) for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate. McLendon owns several broadcast stations across the nation and has oil, real estate and theater interests.

Mrs. Stone told police she had never seen McLendon, but that she understood he was "head of the Mafia and the Cosa Nostra" in Dallas. Detective Harvey Totten said the woman told him she wanted to shoot McClendon because "he is a Communist."

McLendon said the event was "fantastic." He said, "I am so happy the gentleman she shot at was not hurt."

The candidate said the woman had been to his downtown Dallas office earlier in the day, but he didn't know why she had called. He said she had appeared at the office several times, but each time he was gone.

Mrs. Stone, a widow from Fort Worth who last Monday rented a north Dallas apartment, arrived at the airport last night and had McLendon paged. She told Stanley Hiatt, an airline agent, that she was waiting for McClendon.

Hiatt said Dyer walked past her heading for a plane, when Mrs. Stone suddenly pulled the pistol from her purse and fired. Hiatt disarmed her.

Cunningham and detective Frank Mote said Mrs. Stone told them McLendon "is dealing in things not in the best interest of the American people. He is one of them."

McLendon's radio stations include KLIF, Dallas; KILT, Houston; KTSA, San Antonio, Tex.; KABL, San Francisco; WYSL, Buffalo, N.Y., and WYNR, Chicago.

The woman told police she was a free lance writer and also had an inheritance.

Station Starts Andrews Fund

A David M. Andrews Memorial Fund for Vascular Research has been established by Radio Station KFRC in San Francisco, where he worked.

Andrews, of 97 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, died in Marin General Hospital Saturday of aneurysm, a weakening of the blood vessels in the brain. He was the son of actor Dana Andrews.

Those wishing to contribute may send donations to Andrews Fund, P.O. Box 7990, San Francisco. Checks should be made payable to the San Francisco Heart Assn., the station said.

Jack Webb, Third Wife Plan Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jack Webb and his third wife, Jacqueline Loughery, have separated and are planning a divorce, according to the actor-producer's lawyer. Webb and Miss Loughery were married in 1958. She was "Miss U.S.A. of 1953."

Complaints Filed Against Clam Diggers

Six hundred cockel clams, even when divided three ways, is somewhat above the limit, according to Warden Russell A. Ild of the State Department of Fish and Game.

He filed complaints against three San Francisco clam diggers in West Marin Justice Court yesterday, charging they had 600 clams taken from Tomales Bay in their possession Feb. 9. The daily limit is 50 clams each.

The three, John C. Ahlf, William L. Bonavier and Victor A. Estrada, must appear in justice court in Point Reyes Station March 4 to answer the charge.

John Graham and Rana Halprin of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Dance Cooperative are featured performers in "Gardens Without Walls," to be presented this weekend at the University of Oregon Arts Festival. Because of the Festival there will be no dance classes at the co-op this Saturday.

Sausalito Planners Endorse Report Urging Federal Loan

Sausalito planning commissioners last night endorsed a report by commissioner Norman Murdoch recommending the city appy for a federal loan for overall planning of the central waterfront.

The loan would mean, according to chairman Melvin S. Wax, the federal government would put up $2 for each $1 the city invests. The city's contribution could include pay of city employees who did some of the work.

Murdoch suggested a fuller report be made for the city council and the matter be explored with William E. Spangle Associates, the city's planning consultants.

Commissioner Roy Starbird, who is also chairman of the community appearances advisory board, reported that board is investigating possibility of annexing to the city the Waldo Point area as well as the American Distilling Co. Starbird said the board is interested in enlarging itself from three to five members.

Second Ousted Deputy Requests Closed Hearing

William N. McKillop, the sheriff's deputy fired after being charged with pulling a revolver and displaying it in a threatening manner while off duty, has asked specifically for a closed hearing before the Marin County Personnel Commission.

The hearing has been set for March 6, and McKillop's attorney, William J. Murphy, has agreed to that date, according to a letter received today by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

The date of the hearing on the firing of another deputy sheriff, George Johnsen, is in doubt, however. It had been set for March 2, but Johnsen's attorney, Patrick S. Hallinan, has asked for a change in the date.

County Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott has in turn requested a written waiver of the 20-day time limit for holding the hearing, so a later date could be set. Hallinan earlier asked for an open hearing for Johnsen, charged with hitting a man in custody of San Rafael police.

Recreation Fund Talks To Be Sought

Whether money is available for a proposed five-year improvement program for San Rafael parks will be discussed with the city manager and finance director before the plan is presented to the city council.

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission decided to follow that plan at its special meeting last night, instead of taking the program to the council without knowing whether money was available for the improvements, according to Joseph D. Rodota, parks and recreation director.

The five-year plan includes a land acquisition program and designing and development of parks and recreational facilities.

Completion of Victor Jones Memorial Park in Glenwood and a land acquisition program in Terra Linda Valley are included.

The scheduled meeting of the commission will not be held next Wednesday because Rodota will be attending a four-day state recreation conference in Anaheim.

The next regular meeting of the group will be March 25.

Man Breaks Arm, Cut In Accident

Ronald Ray, 25, of 1364 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, was in good condition today at Marin General Hospital after suffering a broken arm and multiple cuts and bruises Tuesday when the car in which he was riding missed a turn on Shoreline Highway and overturned into the Bolinas Lagoon.

Ronald Nelson, 19, of 201 D Street, San Rafael, who also was in the car was treated for cuts on the right shoulder.

CIVIC CENTER PLAN DEBATED BY PANEL

Frost, Scarlett Back Bruce In Asking For Combined Unit; Duhamel Gives Objections

Debate over development of Marin County fairgrounds adjacent to the Civic Center continued today over Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

W. P. Duhamel, former county veterans service officer, repeated his objections to building the proposed veterans "memorial auditorium on the fairgrounds.

County Administrator Alan Bruce explained his recommendation that the amphitheater, originally proposed as the first fairgrounds development, be delayed in favor of an auditorium that would serve as a veterans' memorial building and a fair exhibit hall.

State race track money could be used to finance part of the project if it is used for county fair purposes.

Duhamel, who objected to the proposal before supervisors Tuesday, raised similar objections on the air today. He said state money would mean state control. He urged that the veterans' building be built with funds reserved by the county for the project and by borrowing from the phase two Civic Center (justice hall) funds.

"I think we could build a building for about one million dollars," he said.

Bruce said any re-allocation of second phase funds would delay the second phase project which is vitally needed.

Scarlett, speaking for performing arts groups in the county, called Bruce's proposal "brilliant." He said a sloping floor auditorium for performing arts cannot be successfully combined with a flat floor auditorium desired by veterans as a memorial building.

Duhamel emphasized that the veterans' building would not be for veterans only.

"We want something that will be used by all the people," he said. The reason it is called the veterans' fund and the veterans' building is that veteran groups 20 years ago urged county supervisors to start setting money aside for a memorial, he said.

There was little disagreement to Bruce's contention that the proposed amphitheater would not get as much use as a performing arts building or a flat-floor auditorium.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast from a tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

'Sweden Week' Is On Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — At approximately 11 a.m. tomorrow Prince Bertil of Sweden will visit city hall and shake hands with San Francisco Mayor John Shelley.

A few minutes later, in civic center across from city hall, an ancient cannon from the Swedish warship Wasa will boom forth and "Meet Modern Sweden Week in San Francisco" will be underway.

Before March 1, when the celebration is scheduled to end, Bay Area residents will be treated to art exhibits, lectures, contests, luncheons, receptions, educational and travel films, concerts and city-wide store displays, all designed to present Swedish culture and Swedish merchandise.

STILL COUNTING

'Policy' Man Had Nothing But Cash

CHICAGO (UPI)—Weary police counted the cash of a dead gambler today and kept counting and kept counting. They passed the half-million dollar mark with more to come.

The booty from a nickel and dime "policy wheel" operator probably will reach $750,000, police said, and there may be more.

The money — in denominations of $1 to $100, plus coins —was found in a modest room of Lawrence Wakefield, a 60-year-old Negro, who died following an apparent heart attack last night.

His landlady, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, 60, said Wakefield had lived in her house for 30 years. It was Mrs. Kennedy who called for help when Wakefield got sick Tuesday. Police who responded to her call became suspicious when they found what seemed to be policy wheel equipment.

Policy has been described as the poor man's stock market. It flourishes throughout Chicago's south side. To play, all you need is a little change. You pick a number, give a man your money and he tells you if you win after a "wheel" allegedly is rotated in somebody's apartment. Thousands of dollars change hands each day in such manner.

Police said Wakefield had been suspected of running a policy wheel but nobody could find sufficient evidence to convict him. Nobody suspected his operation was so successful.

The police began to wonder about the nature of the south side home when they noticed presses and a paper supply. After moving Wakefield to a hospital, Mrs. Kennedy was asked about a back room. She told the policemen nobody ever went back there. They kicked in the door and found the money.

"I never saw so much money in all my life," said Detective George Mertes.

Police found five pistols and a rifle. But mostly there was money.

The money was in bags and pillow cases and it was stuffed in chairs and in clothing. There was $160,000 in one bag. The money was everywhere. It was taken to Kensington station and found to be genuine.

Candymaker See Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Helms See, 42, is seeking a divorce from wealthy candymaker Charles Burson See, also 42, on a charge of cruelty.

Her complaint, filed yesterday, said the couple agreed on a property settlement when they separated Jan. 9. She waived alimony but will receive two automobiles and $80,000 when See's Beverly Hills home is sold.

Mrs. See, the daughter of baking company executive Paul H. Helms, is the former wife of Rep. Alphonzo E. Bell Jr. (R-Calif.).

Balzan Peace Prize Awarded To U.N.

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—The Balzan Foundation today awarded its 1963 peace prize to the United Nations Organization.

The prize was the third since the foundation was established in 1960 to honor the memory of late Italian journalist Eugenio Balzan. The first peace prize was awarded to the Novel Foundation and the second to the late Pope John XXIII.

"Coyoting" was one of the early methods of mining placer gold in California, so called because the erratic burrowings of the miners resembled those of the coyote.

Rewriters Meet On Constitution

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A newly formed advisory group, the commission on constitutional revision, opened a two-day session today to start the work of re-writing California's long, 85-year-old constitution.

The commission will study how to streamline the constitution, and consider the possibility of adopting a new code more flexible than the constitution but on a higher level than ordinary statutes.

The present constitution totals 80,000 words, making it the second longest of all states, and 10 times longer than the U.S. Constitution. It was first adopted in 1878 and was never fully revised. It has more than 300 amendments.

Cancer Research Facility Bids Are Called For

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The State Office of Architecture and Construction has called for bids for construction of a 1.6-million-dollar cancer research facility for the State Department of Public Health in Berkeley.

The facility will house research activities of the department's field cancer research project, a coordinated program of studies now under way on cancer in man and animals. A scientific staff of 60 eventually will be employed.

The building is designed as an addition to the department's building in Berkeley. It will be four stories high with full basement and a mechanical equipment penthouse. Future horizontal and vertical expansion to eight stories is provided for in the building's foundations and structural frame.

Bids for the project will be opened in Sacramento March 17.

Milk Hearing Set Tomorrow

Hearings before representatives of the Bureau of Milk Stabilization will be held in the Sonoma County Administration Center, Santa Rosa at 10 a.m. tomorrow for producers in the Redwood Marketing area which includes Marin County.

Hearings are being held throughout the state this month to review minimum prices paid dairymen by distributors for fluid milk and for milk being used for production of ice cream, buttermilk and evaporated and condensed milk.

Charles Paul, state director of agriculture, said no change in consumer price of milk is expected to result from any of the proposed amendments.

Professor Odegard On Critical List

STANFORD (UPI)—Dr. Peter H. Odegard, professor of political science at the University of California at Berkeley, remained on the critical list at Stanford Medical Center today following open heart surgery.

Odegard, 62, entered the hospital Sunday suffering from aortic stenosis, a narrowing of the heart's aortic valve. He underwent surgery Tuesday and doctors said the next week or 10 days would be the critical period.

REGENT IN GREECE

Greece's new government yesterday in Athens drafted a decree naming 23-year-old Crown Prince Constantine (left) regent for his ailing father, King Paul (right). The king was expected to sign the decree today. The royal palace announced last night that the king, 62, suffers from stomach ulcers and is expected to undergo surgery in a few days. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Sends 29 Cuban Fish Poachers Home

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI)—Four boatloads of Cuban poachers left for home today. There was speculation they were detained by federal authorities to insure the safe arrival of a young pilot whose plane was hijacked Tuesday.

The pilot, 23-year-old Richard Wright of Miami, landed here shortly after noon.

The 29 Cubans, aboard four sleek fishing boats which penetrated U.S. waters Feb. 2 and touched off a new U.S.-Cuban squabble, pulled away from the U.S. Coast Guard base here minutes later.

Earlier the Coast Guard had blamed the delays of the Cubans' departure on engine trouble, misplaced flags and missing medical papers.

Two 95-foot Coast Guard cutters escorted the fishing boats. A spokesman said they would travel halfway to Cuba with the fishing vessels to prevent any incidents, especially from roving anti-Castro sea raiders.

Space Docking Attempt Might Come In Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard says Gemini spacecraft crews plan to make their first attempt to rendezvous in orbit with an- from now.

Shepard told 300 educators from 60 countries last night that efforts at rendezvous and space docking may be made on the third or fourth manned flight of the two-man Gemini craft.

The first unmanned orbital Gemini flight is planned this spring, and a three-orbit manned flight may be undertaken next November.

Truck Making Turn Hurts Boy

David Lochelt, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn W. Lochelt of 105 La Pasada Way, Santa Venetia, suffered a minor left hip injury when struck by the bed of a truck at Irwin Street and Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael last evening.

The boy, sophomore at Terra Linda High School, told police he was standing on the curb about 6 p.m. when the truck cut the corner sharply. It continued east on Francisco.

He said the truck's three occupants possibly were unaware it hit him.

U. S. 'Does Not Favor' Boycott

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today it "does not favor" any boycott by American consumers against products from countries which trade with Cuba.

Only a brief comment, with no elaboration, marked the first direct Johnson administration policy statement on an issue which has come into prominence since Britain and a number of other countries have made clear their intention to trade with Cuba against U.S. wishes.

It appeared to be a pull-back from what had been widely regarded as administration hints that American consumer boycotts of British products might be looked on with sympathy. (See also editorial comment in Allen-Scott column, page 26.)

Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a Feb. 15 interview with the Voice of America, broadcast around the world, was asked about the matter of boycotts and replied:

"Well, we don't ourselves plan to organize any boycott against the goods of countries that may be engaged in that (Cuban) trade. I think it is possible there may be some consumer reaction here in this country, here and there with respect to firms that specifically engage in that trade. But that's something that is in the hands of private citizens; we have no part in that ourselves."

Today's State Department comment appeared designed to re-emphasize that the U.S. government did not sanction openly or tacitly any boycotts.

Meanwhile, two other countries threatened with loss of American aid because of shopping to Cuba have told Washington they are willing to cooperate but need time to figure out how.

U.S. Aspirant Orchard Talks In Mill Valley

Orchard, 44, Ukiah attorney, is seeking the Democratic nomination to oppose Rep. Donald H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) of the First Congressional District.

The talk was sponsored by the Mill Valley Democratic Club, headed by president Dian Brockmiller. William Ramsay, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Orchard said reforms are needed to modernize procedures in congress, especially the time-consuming roll call vote. He would like to see major bills speeded up instead of being bogged down in committees.

Woman's Screams Rout Attacker

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A student at San Francisco College for Women told police she was attacked by a man outside her Nob Hill apartment last night but her screams chased him away.

The girl, Peter Leone McCormick, 22, said her would-be attacked followed her to her apartment and tried to throttle her with a red towel.

Her screams were heard by Boyce Kimball, 33, who chased the ttacked for five blocks but lost him.

Bank Employee Just Couldn't Pick Winner

NEW YORK (AP) — An old and trusted employee of a British-owned bank here found himself standing before a state judge yesterday, accused of embezzling $1,248,958.39.

Authorities said the accused man, William Scorca, 53, had a fondness for horse racing but wasn't good at picking winners during the eight-year perior covered in the 151-count inlictment.

If convicted on all counts of grand larceny and forgery, he could receive prison sentences totaling 1,510 years; with time off for good behavior, 1,006 years and eight months.

Scorca, whose tastes also included expensive clothes and good cigars, went to work for the Chartered Bank in the Wall Street district 39 years ago—at the age of 14. The 110-year-old institution specializes in Asian commerce.

Through the years he became assistant cashier, but reportedly was paid under $10,000 a year.

Last December, the bank became curious about Scorca's books and asked some questions. He answered and promptly headed for a favorite vacation spot, Atlantic City.

Bank officials in Manhattan turned up a dummy account through which a fortune had fled. Scorca, staying at a shore motel, took an overdose of Barbiturates.

He received a suspended sentence in New Jersey for attempted suicide and then waived extradition to New York, where a court ordered psychiatric observation.

Scorca, 5-feet-4 and 170 pounds, came out of Bellevue Hospital yesterday with a report that he was sane and was placed in $30,000 bail by Supreme Court Justice Joseph A. Sarafite.

At the same time, authorities released a convicted bookmaker, Michael Grande, 24, who had been held as a material witness. Scorca allegedly had been one of his patrons.

As commander of the reserve hospital, he is responsible for recruiting, organizing and assuring readiness of a 1,000-bed hospital at the base. The unit, organized with eight men, now has 65 officers and more than 300 enlisted men.

Colonel Mathews served in the Army Air Corps from 1937 to 1946. He transferred to the Air Force Reserve in 1949.

Major S. F. Yacht Club Ponders Move To Marin

Three Sites Considered By St. Francis Sailors

The St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco has threatened to move from the city to Marin.

The threat came yesterday at a meeting of the Finance Committee of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors after discussion of a new 20-year lease of its Marina site.

The Independent-Journal learned today that no definite site in Marin has been selected. One observer on the local yachting scene called the threat a "shot in the dark," claiming the club probably would stay in San Francisco but that the threat was to get action from the committee.

It was learned the club has considered three sites in Marin as possible locations. One is Paradise Cay and another is Keil's Cove in Tiburon. Third possibility would be to consolidate with the Marin Yacht Club located on the San Rafael Canal.

The supervisors' Finance Committee has the new proposal for a 20-year lease under study. The club wants the lease for $500 per month. Property director Philip L. Rezos of the Finance Committee told other committeemen that a fair rental would be $1,200 per month for the next 10 years and $1,500 a month for the following 10.

Supervisor Jack Morrison suggested the matter be given back to the Recreation and Park Commission which has spent one year trying to work out the present proposal.

But Leroy H. Hines of Stinson Beach, chairman of the yacht club's board of directors, said that further negotiations over rental "would serve no useful purpose."

The club's lease expires Dec. 31, 1965, Hines told the committee, "and we would like to find out what our destiny is going to be."

Attorney James Michael of Belvedere, representing the St. Francis Club, warned the committee that two other San Francisco yacht clubs have moved to Marin, the Corinthian Yacht Club—now in Tiburon — and the San Francisco Yacht Club —now located in Belvedere.

Michael told the Independent-Journal today he would not like to deny or confirm the three Marin locations said to be considered.

Asked whether the discussion yesterday was a threat, Michael said, "No, it is not a threat. It is a simple and straight forward policy of the club."

The attorney pointed out that the club has been in existence since 1928. "We feel a yacht club is a very valuable asset to a community," he declared. "We have done things for San Francisco far more than can be measured in money."

In a 10-page report by Michael delivered yesterday to the committee, he said "Marin has four yacht clubs and the St. Francis Yacht Club will become the fifth if San Francisco is unwilling to lease to aprivate club the very land which that club made it possible for the city to own."

Official Says A.L. To Buy Out Finley

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A "high-placed baseball official" was quoted yesterday as saying Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics probably will be bought out for $7 million—with the help of other American League club owners.

Sports writer John B. Old of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner said he got this information from an official "who must remain anonymous for obvious reasons."

Old wrote:

"To get Finley out of baseball, A.L. club owners, at their meeting in Boston tomorrow, are expected to meet Finley's reported asking price of $7 million."

Old said his source told him: "It's extremely doubtful if the American League can find anybody who'll pay Finley his absurd asking price. But you can bet he'll get it, with the American League quietly making up the difference in one form or another.

Old said his informant believes Finley has the law on his side when he argues he should not be forced to stay in Kansas City.

"Finley has the American League over the barrel," Old said his source told him. "There is no law that compels a man to continue to lose money in the same place.

"The American League rule which says franchise changes may be made only by a certain deadline, and with the approval of fellow club owners, would not stand up in court."

Meanwhile, Finley was turned down on another offer of a two-year lease for Municipal Stadium in Kansas City.

It's Snead Against The Field As PGA Seniors Tournament Starts

By OSCAR FRALEY

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (UPI) — It's "Slamming" Sammy Snead against a 407-man field today as they start a four-round chase for the P.G.A. Senior Golf Championship.

The sweet swinger who will be 52 in May makes his debut over the new P.G.A. National Golf Course after having a "chance to birdie every hole" in a six under par 33-33-66 during his final tuneup for this 50-and-over chase for the coveted Teacher's Trophy.

The winner of this $30,000 event also earns a trip to Britain to meet England's senior champion for the "world" senior title.

For Snead's rivals include defending champion Herman Barron of White Plains, N.Y. —who won last year with a record 16 under par 272 — and former winners Paul Runyan, Gene Sarazen, Pete Burke and Al Watrous in the lists.

The field also include such as Dutch Harrison, Big John Barnum, Ellsworth Vines, Sammy Byrd, former U.S. Open king Tony Manero and former P.G.A. winners Jim Turnesa, Denny Shute and Vic Ghezzi.

"Don't go pinnin' that favorite's tag on me," Snead complained. "There's a lot of guys here who can play good golf, and don't you forget it. But, I am playin' good and I'd sure like to win it."

Snead, who has captured 113 tournaments in his long career, also would like to win a little money. For, in addition to the $2,500 top prize he said he contemplated "a little Nassau bet to sweeten things with some of these other old fellers."

Jim Turnesa, beaten by Snead 'way back in 1942 in the P.G.A. match play finals, said that he figured only Snead —with the possible exception of Barnum—had the length off the tee to win in the high winds which had been sweeping the two new P.G.A. courses.

"You'd have to make Lawrence of Arabia the favorite under these conditions," said Turnesa, "but as long as he isn't here, I'll settle for Snead. That east course is the toughest and longest I've ever seen and it will take a big hitter like Sam or Barnum, to beat it."

Runyan, the 1961 and 1962 winner, was one of the few who weren't handing the title to Snead without a battle, even though "Little Poison" is a "short knocker."

"I've trained hard and practiced hard and I'm ready for a big effort," he said.

O'Dell A Rare Athlete; He Has To Put On Weight To Be Effective

Jack Hanley

Billy O'Dell is one of those rare athletes who is never overweight. In fact, the Giant southpaw probably will be under orders again this spring to put on some beef. Last spring Alvin Dark told O'Dell he wanted him up to 180 by April 1 or O'Dell would be fined a dozen golf balls. O'Dell had to add 11 pounds to avoid the fine.

Normally, a team manager is not confronted with underweight problems. It's the other way around. Usually he is issuing directives to his men to shed the winter blubber. But O'Dell keeps as busy as a beaver during the winter months on his South Carolina farm, training hunting dogs and tending to his crop of Christmas trees.

O'Dell reported at 169 last spring. He opened the season at 180 and apparently that was his ideal weight because he won his first eight games. By May 30, O'Dell was 8-0. By July 30, he was 11-6.

What happened to O'Dell between May 30-July 30 when he won only 3 of 13 starts? The team trainer, Frank (Doc) Bowman, knows there was nothing wrong with O'Dell's arm. O'Dell never had a sore arm in his life. Bowman suspects that several pounds O'Dell lost during his 8-0 streak may have had something to do with his subsequent dip.

A TWISTED ankle sidelined O'Dell for two weeks in August and during the enforced idleness O'Dell regained his lost poundage. It was apparent that O'Dell was htronger after the fortnight on the sidelines than before it. In his first start after the ankle injury, O'Dell won his 12th game of the season on Aug. 28. It was a 5-3 win over St. Louis.

In September, O'Dell won two of six decisions, completing both of them, and wound up the season 14-10, a most disappointing mark after his fast 8-0 getaway.

O'DELL HIMSELF believes that his weight definitely is an important factor in his won-loss production. "In 1961 I came in too light," O'Dell says. "Around 160 or thereabouts." Dark gave O'Dell only 10 starting assignments in 1961 and O'Dell didn't like that. At the end of the '61 season, O'Dell attributed his 7-5 record to lack of work (130 innings, most in relief) and issued an ultimatum: "Pitch me or trade me."

In 1962 Dark took O'Dell at his word. O'Dell reported at 170 in the spring of '62. Dark, as he did last spring, told O'Dell to stoke up on steaks. O'Dell did and put on 10 pounds. Then, Dark gave him one starting assignment after another and O'Dell completed them almost as fast as Dark handed them out.

In all, O'Dell completed 20 games in '62. He should have been a 20-game winner but finished 19-14. Although Jack Sanford led all Giant pitchers with 24-7, Sanford completed only 13 of his wins in '62.

ONLY WARREN Spahn, with 22 complete games, started and finished more than O'Dell in '62. Of O'Dell's 14 losses—four were by one run, two by two runs.

O'Dell hopes to pitch back to his '62 form this year. "If," he says, "I keep out of chuck holes (he twisted his ankle in one in Philadelphia last season) and keep my weight up, I'm sure I can do it."

No More Sparring For Liston; Clay Keeps On Talking

By JACK CUDDY

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Sonny Liston's sudden finish to his sparring preparations drew gleeful shouts today of "stale, stale, the old man's gone stale," from challenger Cassius Clay and his handlers.

Champion Liston had planned to box yesterday and today, at least, in training for his second defense of the heavyweight crown next Tuesday night at the Miami Beach Convention Hall against Cassium, the Kentucky braggart.

Instead, 30-year-old Sonny made a retroactive announcement yesterday that he had finished his sparring chores on Tuesday.

Trainer Willie Reddish explained: "Sonny is right on edge now and we want to keep him sharp that way until time for the fight. He'll do just enough roadwork and gym exercises to hold the edge."

However, 22-year-old Clay declared:

"A lotta worry and a little work made that ugly old bear go green-cheese stale. He didn't box enough to put a midget in shape—just 91 rounds. He was so scared of me—the greatest—he just turned into a tired old senior citizen, who'll be goin' around talkin' next Wednesday about what a great chapeen he wuz. I said W-U-Z."

Although Cassius already has sparred 143 rounds, to Sonny's 91, he will not complete his leather-tossing until Saturday, one of his trainers disclosed.

Heckler Cassius again harrassed the champion yesterday outside Liston's training quarters. Clay and two companions made loud speeches on the highway in front of the community center and jammed traffic for blocks until Surfside Police Chief Wiley Barefoot and four of his men marched Cassius and his mates across the highway to a parking lot.

When Liston arrived in his car, the Clay trio galloped across the highway and begin harassing Sonny and his men. Finally, with friends holding both fighters back, the two touched the fingers of their right hands in a semi-shake and then the champion blew a kiss at Cassius and said:

"My million-dollar baby."

Liston was referring to the fact that he expects his own total purse from Tuesday's fight to approximate 2-million-dollars.

Ken Watts Answers Questions On Citizens Bands For Boaters

QUESTION: How about CB (Citizens Band) for boaters?

We'll by-pass a signature on the above for the reason there have been a number of letters querying on this subject.

The following information is through the courtesy of "Ken" Watts who heads the boating committee of the Marin Rod & Gun Club. He replies:

"ON OUR cruise up the Delta Region last year, and on several foraging expeditions later on, I felt the need of some way to communicate with my partners in a two or more boat fleet, other than the frantic waving of arms, hand signals, blinkers, or just plain yelling.

"I thought of marine radio, which seems to be the obvious answer when considering communications around boats on the water. But marine radio is expensive, and I couldn't expect our trailer boating group of outboarders to put in such equipment. So I began to ask questions and soon found what I thought to be the answer for the small boat skippers. It's Citizen's Band, "CB" for short. CB is a 23-channel piece of the air in the 27 megacycle range, which has been reserved by the Federal Communications Commission (F.C.C.) for the citizen. They call this Class D, CB. It is possible with a pair of the transceivers to have your own private communications network; in your car, boat, cabin, camp, or trailer, up at the lake or wherever.

"I SOON learned that this idea of CB radio in boats is not new by any means. It is being used all over the country, in fact many yachtsmen are putting in CB radios to supplement their marine radio-telephone, because the marine band was getting so loaded they found it difficult to get a word in edgewise. Marine radio, being more powerful and further reaching, takes in all that is going on in that area. In a location such as ours, around the San Francisco Bay and the ocean, this can be quite a lot.

"For our purpose I ruled out marine radio altogether for this reason, and also it would do us no good on Lake Berryessa, Mendocino, Clear Lake, etc., and came to the conclusion that CB would do the job.

"Now, how much? How big? What type? And how does one go about this?

"I DISCOVERED there are walkie-talkies, stationary, and mobile units. The walkie-talkies are power rated in milliwatts to one watt, and the stationary or larger mobile units are rated to five watts. The walkie-talkies rated below one watt do not require FCC along with an $8 fee. At this time there are no tests or examinations required to operate CB radio.

"After weighing all these things, I finally came to the conclusion that a little hand-held walkie-talkie would do what I wanted in the way of communication from boat-to-boat in the situation where we are mostly in sight of each other, but not exactly within hailing distance. For example: Two or three of us decide on a fishing expedition and we find ourselves in a large group of about 100 boats milling about in a rather large area where fish are biting. Let's say, for some reason I have to return to home base because of limiting out, gas running low, or even suddenly remembering that the good wife had made an appointment to visit the Smiths this p.m.

"ANYWAY, I've got to leave and I must find my partners in that mess of boats out there. His boat is a white runabout with a Johnson "75" on it, and I think he is wearing a blue cap. Have you ever tried to find a special boat like this? It seems like all boats are white and from a distance I don't know whether it is a Johnson "75" or "40" or what. But if he has a walkie-talkie, and I have one tuned on the same channel, we are in business.

"Now, what about these walkie-talkies? One can be bought for as little as $20. These are in the four-transistor class and have a range up to one mile, so I am told! A nine-transistor, 100-milliwatt unit can be had for about $40 and up, a 10-transistor, one watt unit from $75 up, and the 5 watt units up to several hundred dollars depending on choice. The latter units require FCC licenses to operate. It might also be mentioned that even the small units, if used with units of one watt or more, must be licensed."

We will continue in next Thursday's column when Ken will go into just how he plans to solve the problem for himself. He also goes into possible CB advantages and disadvantages.

USF Looms As Strong Threat In NCAA Cage

UCLA and Oregon State are considered co-favorites for next month's Western Regional basketball tournament, but they could get flattened by that University of San Francisco juggernaut.

The Dons last night won their 12th straight contest with another lop-sided win on an enemy court. USF, which scored over 100 against Pepperdine and Loyola last weekend, mauled the best University of Pacific team in years, 80-59, on the Tigers' court.

USF still has to clinch the West Coast Athletic Conference in order to reach the NCAA tournament, but its 7-0 record is well ahead of second-place San Jose State (5-2).

Coach Pete Peletta undoubtedly has the coast's deepest squad and his main problem every game is to find which of his top dozen men to start.

His two most consistent performers, Dave Lee and Ollie Johnson, led last night's attack with 26 and 19. Leo Middleton scored 25 for the Tigers, now 4-3.

More insight into the Western Regional NCAA will be gained tonight when Seattle goes calling on Utah State. Both are at-large picks in the tournament.

Stock Car Record Set

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Glenn "Fireball" Roberts set a new modified stock car record on his home track yesterday during accident marred practice laps and qualifying runs.

Roberts pushed his modified 1961 Ford to 170.5 miles an hour on the International Speedway's big asphalt oval, shattering the old mark of 164.2 set last year by Bobby Johns of Miami.

Johns Island, S.C. driver Jimmy Brown was seriously injured when his modified Ford blew on the steep fourth turn and flipped twice. Brown was hospitalized with possible shoulder fractures, eye and skull lacerations.

Jack McCoy of Modesto, Calif., escaped serious injury when he lost control of his modified Studebaker coming out of a turn and demolished the car.

McCoy climbed out of the 1953 Studebaker just before it burst into flames. He was held in the hospital for observation.

It Was One Of Those Great Days; Warriors Cool Royals

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Did you ever have one of those days when everything went right? The San Francisco Warriors had such a day yesterday.

They took on the National Basketball Assn's hottest team, Cincinnati, on the Royals' court before a big crowd of 8,668. Cincinnati had won 12 straight and had rested Tuesday, while the Warriors were playing their third game in three nights.

San Francisco not only exploded for a 108-101 victory, but then learned to their amazement that arch-rivals St. Louis and Los Angeles had both been upset by the league's two worst teams, New York and Detroit.

That brought the Warriors back from a tough road trip still two games in front of the Hawks in Western Division action and 5½ ahead of the slumping Lakers.

San Francisco battles revenge-minded Cincinnati again tomorrow night at the USF gym.

The Warriors are tough any time Wilt Chamberlain gets some help and he had plenty last night.

Wayne Hightower was devastating as he scored 29 points and led the defense that held down Royal stars Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas in the second half.

But Chamberlain was the leader as always. He meshed 32 points and dominated both boards. He hit only 4 of 12 free throws, however.

San Francisco led only 84-83 after three periods and many felt that their tiring schedule of the past nights would then start to tell. But instead, they dominaed play and stopped Robertson and company cold with but 18 points in the last period.

Robertson led the Royals with 29, but 19 of them were in the first half.

'Lousy' Is Word For Steelhead Fishing In Most Reported Areas

STEVENS

My good friend Bob Johnson, Oakland traffic cop, did his bounden duty and reported on steelheading in some streams. "I fished the Ten-Mile, the Noya, and the Navarro, without a rise. Spoke to several local addicts who worked streams from the Russian in the Merribelle sector to the Cloverdale area. Also had talk with two lads who had just returned from the Gualala. They all had one word to describe fishing—"Lousy!"

As always, a few odd fish were caught (mostly from the lower Russian), but the overall picture looks mighty uninviting. Most streams (and this includes all popular waters, both north and south of the Gate) are low and clear. Rain is needed for a grandstand finish, but if it happens to be heavy rain, chances are that the steelhead season will be over. Bob Johnson told me that one of the experts from Fort Bragg claimed this season the worst in many years.

POSSIBLE FAIR finale might be the South Fork of the Eel, in the Garberville region, but don't shove off until you have made a phone call to a trusted scout on the spot.

Several hundred avid anglers could care less that steelhead fishing holds little promise. Those who go to the sea in party boats with a big yen for fresh salmon are chortling with much glee since Monday. Just about everybody able enough and healthy enough to deposit a rod in a rod holder and willing to settle for beautiful silversides that weigh on an average of around 10 pounds.

ART PAYNE called me last night to tell me there were two nice freshly caught salmon with my name on them at the Lucky Bait Shop. He reported that everyone in his party limited out in record time. I intended to eat at least one of them on Tuesday night, but when three other fans called to rave over the action, and then Joe Navarro of Castro Valley, reported that he and Johnnie Parks chartered the boat, Pacific Pride, with "Old Tom" at the helm, and collected limits for all 10 rods aboard—well, I couldn't stand it. Almost shouted my acceptance to an invitation to take a shot at it from aboard the Lancer.

I have an idea that the action was not quite so fast as the day before—It took me nearly two hours to get my limit, but the weather and water was fine.

ABOUT STRIPED BASS — Audrey Payne of the San Lorenzo Bait called to report Tony Barness and Carl Rollins limiting to 18½ pounds; Tony Centoni and Tom Yamamoto's limits went to 17 pounds; Jack Patrick soloed with a 17; Earl Hastings and Earl Vasconcellos also limited to 17 pounds, and Tony Centoni on Sunday, with Nish Yamamoto, took limits to 20 pounds. All on bullheads and in the Buoy 8 area.

AFL 'Red Shirt' Draft Dominated By Tackles

NEW YORK (UPI)—Most professional football teams still are looking for tackles:

Five of the eight American Football League teams selected tackles yesterday during the first round of a supplementary draft in which a total of 48 "red shirt" college players were chosen.

The tackles chosen on the first round were Dick Herzing of Drake by Denver, Larry Hand of Applachian State by New York; Bob Burrows of East Texas State by Kansas City; John Diebert of Penn State by Buffalo, and Tony Lawrence of Bowling Green by Boston.

San Diego's champion Chargers picked three Mississippi futures—guards Charles Hinton and Tommy Lucas and halfback Frank Kinard. The Chargers' first choice was halfback Allen Robinson of Brigham Young.

In other first round picks, Oakland chose end Carlton Oates of Florida A&M, and Houston picked end Jerry Cole of Southwest Texas.

These choices were additions to the original draft conducted in December. Other players selected yesterday by West Coast clubs were:

SETTLING DOWN

Foreign Students Lick Food Problem

By PHIL FRADKIN

Three foreign students, who are in their second week of classes at College of Marin, have licked the problem of getting used to American food and are now settling down to wrestle with the English language.

The three, among 12 foreign students enrolled at the college for the second semester, came from Arabia, Korea and Nigeria to begin studying for careers as a marine biologist, an elementary school teacher and a mechanical engineer.

They are: Salah Hassan Alfadalah, 21, of Kuwait, a British protected sheikdom on the Persian Gulf, who is living with the Hart R. Keepeer family of 16 Glen Drive, Sausalito; Sun Ryang Choe of Seoul, Korea, living with the family of Rev. H. Gordon Birky of 69 Via Navarro, Greenbrae, and Augustine Chuks-orji of Nigeria, living with the family of Dr. and Mrs. John C. Bennett of 34 Pigeon Hollow Road, San Rafael.

Already in her two weeks at the college, Miss Choi, who plans to become an elementary school teacher, has seen the difference in the friendliness of students with faculty members as compared to Korean schools.

Miss Choi, as did her two fellow foreign students, had difficulty adjusting to American food when she arrived in the United States. The greatest difficulty now facing her is learning the language, so she can keep up with her reading and instructors' lectures.

Alfadhalah, who plans to become a marine biologist, is interested in plans of the college to construct a marine biology station at Bolinas. "This is a great field in my country," he said, but Arabian universities have no courses on marine biology.

Since Nigeria became independent in 1960, there has been a greater need for mechanical engineers, Chuks-orji said. "We have quite a number of engineers, but we still need more."

Chuks-orji, who has been in the United States two weeks, was struck by the friendliness of Americans. "During registration, a boy came up to me and helped me with my papers. Afterward he took me to lunch and paid for it. Every morning now I have a ride to school," he related.

Alfadhalah's friends in Kuwait, who had studied in the United States, told him about the friendliness of the people here. "I found all my impressions to be true," he said.

Chuks-orji has three additional impressions: "Most of the Americans are rich. Here everybody seems to mind their own business; and everybody seems to be in a hurry."

Alfadhalah commented: "I found everything here to be true about freedom, friendship, and the good life. However, I am worried about the problems of the Negroes—whether they will gain their freedom."

The Nigerian student added, "I haven't seen or witnessed yet what I had heard about discrimination in the United States."

After completing two years at the junior college, Miss Choi plans to transfer to San Francisco State College and Chuks-orji to University of California. Alfadhalah has not yet settled on his plan beyond College of Marin.

Lt. Gen. Robert H. Terrill of the Ent Air Force Base, Colo., vice commander of the Air Defense Command, presented awards for food service and commissary excellence and supply effectiveness.

The award for base food service facilities was given to Maj. Ross Conti and CWO Robert Solomin of the 78th Air Base Squadron.

The award for commissary excellence was given to Major Conti and Francis G. Leap of the base commissary.

A Timely Letter

Mrs. Walter Geries, 239 Union Street, San Rafael, is one of 25 winners in a national contest because she wrote a letter describing an interesting experience that involved an alarm clock. What did she win? Another alarm clock. The contest was sponsored by the Ingraham Co. of Bristol, Conn.

Airman Given Medal For Nabbing Escaped Convict

A1/c Bobby G. Butcher of Hamilton Air Force Base has been awarded the airman's medal, top Air Force peacetime award for heroism, for his work in the capture of an escaped convict in San Rafael in 1960.

Airman Butcher, a telephone repairman in the 4661st Support Squadron, was en route to a part-time job when he heard a broadcast over his truck radio that a dangerous, armed criminal was in the area.

Moments afterwards, he and a companion, Airman Joseph Hamilton heard gunshots and saw a speeding car headed in their direction.

As the car careened around the airman's vehicle, Butcher took up the chase, following it for about two miles until it finally crashed.

"A guy who weighed about 165 pounds jumped from the wrecked car and began running down a side street," Butcher said. "We stopped our truck and took off after him."

The two airmen caught the fleeing suspect and disarmed him of a sharp knife. "What we didn't know," he said, "was that our captive had another knife concealed on his person."

Airman Butcher threw himself upon the man and hurled him to the ground, managing to hold on until San Rafael police arrived.

It was discovered later that the gunshots he heard earlier were those fired by the police at the speeding vehicle.

Squadron Commander Lt. Col. David J. Kirby presented the medal with the accompanying citation for an "outstanding display of fortitude and courage."

Butcher's companion, Hamilton, was discharged from the Air Force about six months after the incident and returned to Texas. His name was not submitted for the medal because he was out of the Air Force before the recommendation was submitted.

Mystery Pops Up In Sinking Of Hattie D

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — Was the yacht Hattie D en route to Mexico for gold when she foundered off the coast of Northern California in a storm two weeks ago?

Two members of the crew said they understood that was the purpose of the trip.

Two other persons connected with the case said the voyage was merely a "pleasure trip" to San Francisco.

The man who chartered the craft, a converted World War II air-sea rescue PT-type 105-footer, Wallace R. Rutherford, 64, Issaquah, Wash., is waiting the outcome of an appeal in the Washington State Supreme Court from his conviction of four counts of stock fraud in connection with the sale of mining company securities.

The state went to Pierce County Superior Court here Tuesday and asked Judge John D. Cochran to confine Rutherford to the State of Washington and to increase his bail.

Cochrane refused both motions but did restrict Rutherford's movements to the United States.

Special prosecutor Joseph Mladinov suggested that Rutherford's voyage was to escape the jurisdiction of the United States.

Robert Orcutt, son of the owner of the Hattie D, said he understood the purpose of the trip was to pick up gold at Guaymas, Mexico, and transport it to Vancouver, B.C. Orcutt was hired on the Hattie D as an engineer at his father's request, he said.

His brother, Dewey, who also was on the craft, gave similar testimony.

Kenneth Burt, a relative of the owner, said he had seen a contract between Orcutt and Rutherford and that he understood the destination was Mexico. He was not on the vessel.

But defense attorney Robert Hammack argued that if Rutherford had intended to leave for good he wouldn't have taken 10 persons with him, especially not Benjamin McClain, Seattle, who was one of his bail sureties.

McClain said he had put up his home and vacant lot worth $35,000 for Rutherford's bail. He also said he had paid $2,000 to go along on the "pleasure cruise" aboard the Hattie D.

Prejudice Flight From One's Fears

EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the oldest and most troublesome problems of mankind is irrational prejudice. More and more thoughtful people today are worrying about uncontrolled hostility in the modern world.

By JOY MILLER

That, as far as Selma G. Hirsh is concerned, is the crux of the matter.

"Prejudice is the conversion of fear into hate," Mrs. Hirsh defines. "The American variety of prejudice, though it may seem more respectable than alcoholism and criminality, is not really very different from either of these. For all may be, and frequently are, flights from one's self and one's fears."

SELMA HIRSH

MRS. HIRSH, who is special assistant to the executive vice president of the American Jewish Committee, became an authority on the subject in a book "The Fears Men Live By" which she wrote in 1955. It's an interpretation of the authoritative, five-volume "Studies in Prejudice," which brought together the results of years of research by scientists into the origins and nature of the prejudiced personality.

These scientists found that "in countless ways fears experienced at the age of 4 may be seen shaping the thoughts and guiding the acts of the 40-year-old," says Mrs. Hirsh.

"When the study came out, I threw up my hands, 'My God,' I said, 'does everyone have to go into analysis?' " She grins as she recalls her reaction.

Then she realized that behavior can be affected, although the underlying attitude or prejudice isn't changed.

"Laws deal with behavior, not attitude," she points out. "They're not to reform the masses, but to protect the few."

SHE SEES AT least one bright hope. "The highly prejudiced personality is strictly conformist. If the most important people feel a certain way or do a certain thing, the prejudiced often fall in line, even if they hate every minute of it."

The more prejudiced people, says Mrs. Hirsh, can't accept frailties in themselves or their parents. They're always idealizing. In the studies' interviews they always remember mama as all a mama should be. They always describe what their parents had given them in material comforts and physical care.

Yet the story of their childhood is told with shrill resentment: their brothers and sisters were preferred, although they were far more amiable; at school, bright though they were, they were

First-Year College Girls Tend To Be Old Fashioned

NEW YORK (UPI) — Should a lad of 12 be allowed to date?

Is it okay for a boy and girl, both 14, to go steady if they wish?

—94 per cent disagreed with this statement: "When two people are serious about each other, it is all right for them to make any kind of love."

—90 per cent would not agree with this statement: "Girls of 12 should be allowed to go steady if they wish."

—MORE THAN 80 per cent disagreed with these statements: "Persons between 16 and 18 do not need to inform their parents where they will be while dating; it is not important for a person to remain pure until marriage; even when a girl is below 18, it is unnecessary for her parents to meet her boy friend before she first goes out with him.

—Most of the respondents said boys and girls of 14 should not be permitted to go steady.

CORPUSCLE COMPETITION

Yesterday the Marin Medical Society members and their wives launched a month-long contest to see which group can procure the most blood donors for the Marin Blood Center. Here giving blood are Dr. and Mrs. Craig Hope while Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Plumhof wait and nurse Gloria Gibala supervises. The Woman's Auxiliary to the Marin Medical Society has volunteered to telephone for donors the past two years, and now they've decided to be donors themselves. (Independent-Journal photo)

Highly Prejudiced Personality Found To Be Strict Conformist

AS ADULTS, therefore, they felt they must punish others as others had once punished them, says Mrs. Hirsh. Because their early experience had made them sure of nothing but the certainty of failure and misery, they can find security and a sense of belonging by pointing to all those around them who don't belong, who are outsiders.

Because of their insecurity, they perpetually exaggerate the importance of authority, and in fact, the scientists speak of them as "authoritarian" personalities.

"MODERATION AND flexibility are the keys in parenthood," says Mrs. Hirsh. "It takes more energy and time to use them than to have rigid rules or no rules at all, but it pays off with your child.

"He should be allowed to grow up at his own pace and mature at his own rate. A child who's pushed becomes fearful and uncertain of his own capacities. That's the key to developing faith in himself. A child given that is less apt to go around attacking people."

As the mother of two girls, aged 15 and 19, Mrs. Hirsh knows all the problems. "But I don't understand why parents are so frightened of their children today. They don't seem to have the capacity to say 'No' to them. I think it's one of their big problems."

Goodnatured Mrs. Hirsh makes it clear that although she's a devoted mother and makes a point of putting herself in her daughters' place when an issue arises, she's no doormat.

"IN MY HOME when the kids say 'But everybody's doing it,' I say 'Not everyone is doing it. You're not.'"

A friend of her younger daughter is permitted to go anywhere she wants, Mrs. Hirsh relates, but her parents won't drive her. "The father is president of a big company, the mother has a Ph.D in something or other. They tell her 'Your grades are bad so we're not driving you. But if anyone else will take you, you can go.'

"I THINK THE middle and upper class, the better educated parents are more guilty of this. Middle class delinquency is a growing phenomenon. Look at the Long Island debutante party in which a house was wrecked or at swastika-painting parties in which even some Jewish kids participate, in pure rebellion."

The child who has never had any limits to what he can do is going to have many sad experiences and becomes constantly fearful, she says. At the other extreme is the over-disciplined, over-protected child who suffers from lasting insecurity, the kind of personality who either looks for a scapegoat in later life or develops a dependency on strong leaders.

"OVER-INDULGENCE and love without guidance will cause emotional deprivation, and discipline without love is no good either. The child who is over-disciplined tends to regard rules as something to break as long as he can get away with it."

AMAZING NEW SUE CORY

Fashion Wave

Gives body! bounce! a natural wave that really lasts

To people who really know hair, the measurement of "good" hair is not strength, but elasticity. This means that the curl is not only strong, but also responsive. Strength will not permit a wave to last for months, giving beautiful, manageable sets. Fashion Wave gives complete positive elasticity—elasticity that lasts until that hair is cut off!

SEE THE CERTIFIED RESULTS OF AN INDEPENDENT TEST FOR ELASTICITY!

An independent testing laboratory subjected a few strands of hair permanented with Fashion Wave to this strenuous test. The curl was placed on a Flexure-Testing Machine and stretched 10,000 times. This is far more than the number of times hair is combed, brushed, and stretched between permanents.

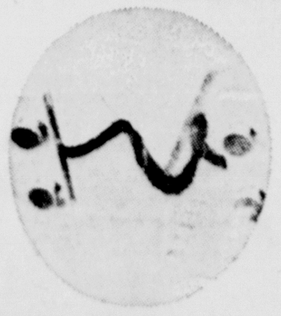

THE INCREDIBLE RESULTS: NO RELAXATION AT ALL!

Curl Before Testing

Curl Being Stretched

Curl on Flexure-Testing Machine

Curl After Being Stretched 10,000 Times

In 1809, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled the power of the federal government was greater than that of any individual state of the union.

A thought for the day — French philosopher and author Voltaire once said: "It is better to risk saving a guilty person than to condemn an innocent one."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

You Can Break General Rule When You Have Good Reason

THURS. FEB. 20 —BRIDGE .... YOU CAN ....

"Third hand high" is one of the general rules of defense, but the general rules apply only when you can't think of any reason to break them.

You may have to play low rather than high on the first round of a suit to keep communication with your partner.

Opening lead — ♡ 8

West leads the eight of hearts, and East must make the key play at the first trick. If East follows the general rule he will put up the queen of hearts.

FIRST HEART

South shrewdly refuses the first heart trick. East continues with a low heart, and South wins with the jack.

Now South goes after the diamonds. If West wins the first diamond, he cannot lead a heart because both of his hearts have already been played. If East wins the first diamond, he can set up his hearts but can never get back to cash them.

In either case South can develop the diamonds and makes a total of ten tricks. The defenders take the first heart and their two diamonds, but nothing else.

KEY PLAY

The key play comes, as we have seen, at the first trick. East should play the nine of hearts instead of the queen. (Any low heart would be correct, but the nine encourages West to lead hearts again.)

South must win the first heart trick. When South leads a diamond, West steps up with the king of diamonds to lead his other heart.

IN TROUBLE

Now South is in trouble. If he is cautious, he will take his eight tricks and fold his tent. If South, instead, leads another diamond to try for his contract, East will take the ace of diamonds and the rest of the hearts. The defense will thus get four hearts and two diamonds, and South will be down two.

Remember, of course, that the recommended key play is useful only against notrump.

When there is a trump suit you must make sure of one heart trick or run the risk of never getting any tricks in the suit.

QUESTION

You hold:

♠ K Q 6 4
♦ 7 4
♣ 8 4 3 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades.

This will be your only cheap chance to show the fine spade support. A raise in this situation should promise good trump support but just about nothing else.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

'Copter Service Makes Marin Better Place To Live

The extension of SFO Helicopter Airlines service to Marin County can be of great benefit to Marin air travelers.

It is always a problem for a person traveling alone on a business trip to get from his home in Marin to San Francisco International Airport at San Mateo. It's just too far for the wife to drive husband down and drop him off, and a few days later drive down to pick him up again.

But the "chopper" service is different. It's no chore to run somebody down to the heliport at Sausalito. If the plane is late, coming home, there's no need for the wife to kill time waiting around the air terminal. She can stay home until she gets a call from the heliport to come pick up husband.

The cost of this "luxury?"

If you buy your ticket at the same time you make reservations for a long-haul air trip, it is only $5 extra for the 'copter ride each way. You can hardly pay bridge tolls, airport parking for your car and the cost of driving down to the airport for as little.

Initially at least, there should be no long check-in lines at the Sausalito terminal. Most airlines do not require further check-in at the airport, if you have checked-in with SFO at the heliport. Even your baggage can go straight through without your having to handle it again.

There are nine flights a day, to and from Marin, between 7:15 a.m. and 7:55 p.m., minimizing delay at the airport between the time the 'copter arrives from Marin and the time your plane departs.

The "list" price of the 'copter ticket, $9.50 each way, is high. It's a luxury that not everyone will feel he can afford. But the one-way charge of $5 in conjunction with a long-haul air fare is quite reasonable. Measured in terms of the convenience it affords, it's a bargain. Many will want to take advantage of it.

We hope the new service thrives; it will help to make Marin an even more desirable place to live.

U.S.-Backed Viet War Goes Badly —And Makes Johnson Good Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American-backed war against Communists in South Vietnam is not only dragging badly but Red assassins are trying to terrorize Americans, including women and children, far behind the lines.

This is building to an anguished dilemma for President Lyndon B. Johnson in this election year when he wants to look good in foreign affairs, the field in which would-be Republican presidential candidates criticize him most.

IN SAIGON, the capital, assassins' bombs have killed and wounded Americans in bars and a baseball stadium. American homes have been attacked with grenades. Sunday night the terrorists reached a peak.

Outside a movie theater filled with about 500 servicemen and their families, a U. S. military policeman was shot to death. Then came the bomb blast.

Two more servicemen were killed, 51 Americans were wounded or injured, including women and children, and outside the theater a number of Vietnamese were killed or wounded.

A DISPATCH says recent Vietnamese intelligence reports indicate top-level Communist terrorist and assassination squads from North Vietnam started moving into Saigon Jan. 1. The attacks didn't get going well until this month. Now the are multiplying in ferocity.

Ever since a bunch of South Vietnamese generals took over the government in a coup last Nov. 1, the course of the war has been uncertain and dilapidated.

This developing chaos was compounded Jan. 29 when the generals who pulled off the Nov. 1 coup were bounced out in another coup by another bunch of generals, led by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, 36.

A "DIRTY, untidy, disagreeable war," Secretary of State Dean Rusk has called it, although Johnson has said "we're not pulling out."

Such a withdrawal would wreck American prestige in Southeast Asia, where over many years now this country has spent American lives and billions in dollars to save the area from communism.

The American part in this war is a kind of myth. The United States is not supposed to be directly involved, because that might mean a war with Red China, which this country, after Korea, doesn't want.

In the past three years about 185 Americans have been killed in Vietnam — mostly in the fighting area but some in Saigon — and about 600 have been wounded or injured. In addition, this country has put over five billion dollars in aid into South Vietnam.

NO WONDER the Communists—knowing this country's reluctance to get directly involved, since it might mean war with China—have taken advantage of the mounting uncertainties.

Their purpose seems obvious enough: To embarrass Americans throughout Asia; to weaken the will of the South Vietnamese to resist by shaking their confidence in Americans and their own government; and to create dissension in the United States over what to do.

Sooner or later Johnson must make a tremendous decision: To stay and just dawdle along while American men and money are lost; to take more direct action, despite the risks; or to get out.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

No Happy Ghettos; Demolish Roller Rinks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last Saturday, Feb. 15, no less than four civic-minded citizens of Marin County managed, either by phone or in a face-to-face accosting, to inform me of the ruckus that erupted when a contingent of mean, angry, Negro delinquents from Marin City overindulged themselves in the liquor of democracy, and in their resulting intoxication garnered the audacity to show up for the Friday night frolics at a San Rafael roller rink. Accordingly, I was given to understand, they got just what they were looking for, trouble. And a Friday night of what should have been fun was, for many, twisted into a democratic nightmare.

I explained to my "friends" that I did not envy the law enforcement officials who had to deal with the mean, irrational, hate - motivated group, and also that I felt the utmost of compassion for the hapless, social-adjusted, rosy - cheeked, white teenagers that suffered their intimidation. I also apologized for being a Negro, and living in San Anselmo and not in Marin City, and I made a promise to return to New York as soon as I could arrange for it....

I did not ask my "friends" just what price they expected to pay for the luxury of a "nice" little ghetto like Marin City—do they really expect the "happy" little monsters to smile at them from their cage, and to never venture out except when cloistered behind the vast windows of their father's unpaid-for Cadillac? Do they expect Marin City to be a model contained community where they can take their civic-minded visitors and point with pride to their bevy of happy little colored folk? And do they expect to keep this happiness club by providing it with a few Uncle Tomish "professionals" that lie to the supporting foundations and to the Sausalito women's clubs about the wonderful job they are doing (this is not to say they are not at least capable diplomats, since this is exactly what the Sausalito women's clubs want to hear)? Or do they really believe in the logic of the country's most undereducated professional group, the real estate men, when they say in essence: "If you got to have niggers, ghettoize them. Because this is the way to maintain the value of your property and protect your daughters from having brown babies."

Maybe I didn't ask these questions, and am not now asking them of anyone I know, because I'm no longer interested in the answers. And maybe this is because I've now lived in Mill Valley and San Anselmo, and in both places have been unable to send my admittedly supersensitive eight-year-old boy to the public schools because of the presage of racial intimidation effected by his many untoward experiences in the community. I am now no longer able to get him even to venture to Isabel Cook's recreation grounds for the same reason. So each morning I take him to a private school in San Francisco that I cannot afford, with an integrated student body because of this, and because of my own bias toward an integrated social structure which is possibly based on the fact that it is the only kind of social structure I have heretofore known.

... If anyone is interested: there are no happy ghettoes! And the only thing to do with roller rinks is to demolish them!

Birth Control Misses Basic Principles

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the many "whys and wherefors" of population explosion and satisfactory contraceptive methods, we seem to miss or ignore the basic principles when it comes to the mating act, in or out of marriage.

True, maturity and honesty in the responsible acceptance of the consequences of our actions is an integral part of peace of mind.

To fail in this is a cause of frustration. Knowing in our hearts we really do not mean "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven" is the source of unrest in our souls. These would remain even if the Church, in her role of teacher, could contradict the eternal law written in each human heart.

Interpretation Fits Council Procedures

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Since his congratulatory letter was composed primarily of editorial quotes, Mr. Monardo, I presume, is complimenting your journalistic ability.

The citizens of Mill Valley, interested in our government, are also to be congratulated for bringing sufficient pressure to bear on Councilman Monardo and his colleagues for allowing 30 minutes preceding the council meetings in order that the taxpayers can have a voice in their own business.

I hope Mr. Monardo will show a little more interest in the next forum, instead of sitting with his back to the public and chatting with other council members as he did at the last meeting.

The situation here has caused many in our city to start talking to themselves, but they don't have to come to the city hall to do this.

That portion of your editorial — "the Town Meetings of old 17th century New England, wherein the Pilgrim Fathers settled matters long before there were city councils or aldermen"—evidently had a special appeal for Mr. Monardo. If you do a little twisting in the interpretation, it fits the Mill Valley council's procedures fairly well, in that matters are usually settled here before the council meeting is under way.

The concept of the Mill Valley Forum is truly democracy in action, but if it is being done for vote getting, appeasement and publicity, then in this case the forum becomes nothing more than another addition to a string of political maneuvers.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

BOY BREAKS DATE WITH DENTIST

Fancy footwork by a youngster who cut loose from a dentist's chair enabled him to put off the inevitable till another day.

With the bib still fastened around his neck, the 10-year-old boy ran out of the office in Gastonia, N. C. determined to avoid having a tooth pulled.

After he shot into the woods, a search party was organized to find him. It took two and one-half hours before he was found, still wearing the bib, and brought home by his father.

Many of us get the urge to "head for the woods" when necessary but painful duties confront us. To feel this way is no more than human.

But little constructive and needed work would be done if all heeded the urge to put natural inclination ahead of the rigorous but rewarding summons of conscience.

Keep alive the divine spark by paying greater attention to the good that can be accomplished by your efforts to serve others than to the inconvenience it may cause you.

VICTORY FOR STATE

Udall Comes Up With New Water Plan In Line With Brown Ideas

By CAPITOL NEWS SERVICE

SACRAMENTO—Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall has released a brand new Pacific Southwest Water Plan which represents practically a complete victory for California's official position on regional water development.

The new plan, which replaces the PSWP of last year which had all of California pretty well united in opposition, adopts nearly every recommendation submitted by Gov. Edmund G. Brown in December as the state's official position.

THE MOST obnoxious feature of the earlier plan, a proposal to export 1.2 million acre-feet of water a year to Arizona, was dropped. The new plan is built around providing the full supply of 7.5 million acre-feet a year for Lower Colorado River Basin users, including California. And strong protection for areas of origin, taken almost verbatim from California recommendations, has been included in the new report.

While the earlier PSWP had talked of Phase I and Phase II, the new plan talks of an initial plan, and even this is broken down to that recommended for immediate authorization and that for deferred authorization, after study. The entire initial plan would cost $3,126,000,000, somewhat less than the four-billion-dollar-plus for the earlier plan. Projects recommended for immediate authorization would total about $1,704,000,000.

The new plan calls for construction of reservoirs and tunnels on the Trinity and South Fork Trinity River to provide the source for 1.2 million acre-feet of water to be moved to southern California. (This was provided for in the original plan but, before that construction, it had been proposed to find 1.2 million acre-feet from existing surpluses for Arizona.)

THE NEW PLAN calls for enlargement of the southern part of the California Aqueduct, rather than all of it, and would eliminate the Havasu Lake Aqueduct, which had been proposed for use in transporting water to Arizona. The new plan calls for enlargement of the East Side Division, as well as a canal connecting it with the Coachella Canal.

The new plan provides that, if waters are to be exported from areas of surplus to southern California, "it is mandatory that protection from any damage be afforded the areas of origin." This is spelled out in three provisions:

1. A guarantee that diversions of water would be subordinate to all existing and anticipated future needs, including retention of water in watersheds of origin if estimates of future needs prove insufficient;

2. Financial assistance from the development fund for the construction of any future projects in the watersheds of origin; and

3. A guarantee that any additional costs of future projects, caused by preemption of lower-cost water sources which otherwise would benefit the areas of origin, or the state of California insofar as its water supply is diminished, would be offset by development fund revenues to the extent that the costs chargeable to such projects would be no greater than if there had been no exports under the plan.

THE WATER development fund, which would take power revenues, would be dedicated to supplying the full 7:5 million acre-feet for the lower basin.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — While Britain, France and other U.S. allies and huge aid beneficiaries are literally tripping over each other to proffer easy-term trade credits to Russia, Cuba and Red China, they are being extremely coy about doing anything to pay off the billions they still owe this country from World War I.

AND CURIOUSLY, White House, State Department and other key authorities, who are solemnly decrying this unseemly scramble to do business with the Communists, also are saying and doing nothing about collecting those 45-year-old debts.

Although the existence of these 20 billion dollars in long-standing obligations is virtually unknown to the American people, they are "live" and current. They are carried as such on the books of the U. S. Treasury. It issues a detailed report on them each June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

BUT THE only recent reference to them was an unnoticed comment in a speech by Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the foreign relations committee, several months ago denouncing President Charles de Gaulle's indicated intention to recognize Red China. Fulbright caustically noted that, while the imperious French ruler was haughtily pursuing a policy of flouting the U. S., he was blandly ignoring the fact that his country still owes more than 6 billion dollars in World War I debts.

Britain, Italy, Belgium and other U. S. allies and aid beneficiaries, while more tactful and politic in their Communist trade operations, are just as silent and aloof as De Gaulle concerning their multi - billion - dollar World War I debts.

ALL ARE ACTING as if these obligations don't exist, and they have no intention of ever paying them.

But the last Treasury report, issued in July, 1963, under the caption "Indebtedness of Foreign Governments to the United States Arising from World War I," lists the following (principal due and unpaid listed first; interest due and unpaid, second, and total, third):

Britain — $4,368,000,000, $4,781,859,301.93, $9,149,859,301.93; France — $3,863,650,000, $2,476,514,589.32, $6,340,164,589.32; Italy—$2,004,900,000, $216,692,909.34, $2,221,592,909.34; Germany — (nothing), (nothing), $1,364,087,357.79; Belgium — $400,680,000, $252,587,077.60, $653,267,077.60; Greece—$31,516,000, $13,202,655.10, $44,718,655.10.

EVERY ONE of these U. S. debtors is also a major beneficiary of economic, military and other aid since World War II.

As of 1946, when the stupendous aid program was initiated, these countries have received the following in various forms of U. S. aid: Britain, $8,711,000,000; France, $9,445,000,000; Italy, $6,006,000,000; Germany, $5,001,000,000; Belgium, $1,988,000,000; Greece, $3,516,000,000.

In addition to these immense grants of various kinds, "foreign governments and enterprises" owe the U. S. some 15.6 billion dollars. Of this total, about one-fourth is collectable only in foreign currencies—most of which are now not convertible.

Britain owes 4 billion dollars—more than one-third of the amount repayable in U.S. dollars. Other major debtors are France, 767 million dollars; Japan, 683 million dollars; India, 625 million dollars.

Housewife Poses A Moral Question Over College Fees For Taxpayers

The Marin Junior College District board was posed with a moral question last week by a Belvedere housewife who will probably receive a legal answer.

Mrs. Jane Sheehy asked the board what right it had to levy fees for students taking credit courses at the college. The students who fall into the category of having to pay $5 per course are over 21 years old and taking less than 10 hours of courses.

THE COLLEGE BOARD, the same night it approved the first tuition fee levied against students taking credit courses, granted $3,400 in raises to five administrators at the college last July 6.

The board also raised the $4 tuition fee for non-credit adult education courses to $5 the same night.

Dr. Ellsworth R. Briggs, in charge of extended day and adult education programs at the college, told the board that there had been "some grumbling" about the new fees by students registering for this semester.

Mrs. Sheehy's "grumble" "was more specific. She chose to bring the matter to a head by stating that her husband, also present at the meeting, paid taxes to the district.

THIS, SHE INDICATED, should entitle her and those persons in her category to free courses. She pointed out that there was no mention of a fee in the college catalogue.

A recruiting brochure put out by the College states: "The College of Marin is a public junior college created to serve the needs of Marin County. There is no charge for tuition. Your only expenses as a student are for textbooks, incidentals and membership in the student body organization."

THIS YEAR'S catalogue, board members heard, will contain the notice of the fee being charged for students in the over 21 and under 10-hour category. No mention was made of the brochure.

The board's argument, in effect, was that students at the college in Mrs. Sheehy's category and adult education students were not carrying their burden, in terms of the amount of state aid given the college for their education.

TO TAKE up this slack and not resort to taxing local property owners for the funds to cover these phases of the education at the college, these fees were charged, the board said.

It would then be up to the college board to answer clearly the question of morality in charging the fee and a statement of intent for the future.

The mere statement that the college's responsibility is primarily toward those students just graduating from high school does not seem sufficient.

Here's Another Lesson In Saying One Thing And Meaning Opposite

NEW YORK (AP)—Have you brushed up on your double-talk lately

HERE ARE a few examples of double-talk with their literal translations.

"I don't know what I'd do without you." But I'd sure like to give it a try.

"Yes, sir, I recommend the corned beef highly. As a matter of fact, I had it myself before coming on duty." That explains why I've got those gas pains right now.

"Receiving this company 25-year-pin, boss, makes me feel more humbly grateful than words can say. I'll always treasure it." This always has been a cheap outfit. I know a lot of firms that give a guy a gold watch after 25 years.

"AS HIS teacher, Mrs. Smythe, I can assure you that your little boy is not backward — despite his low marks." He's just downright dumb like his mother.

"It sounds like a great idea, chief. You're a real genius." But how come you didn't like it last year, when I suggested it to you myself?

"Oh, pardon me, is this your umbrella? I thought it was mine." And it would have been—if you hadn't caught me.

"NO, HENRY, I'm not really a cold career girl at heart. All I want is a little home I can make cozy for someone I love." And some chump like you, buddy boy, to pay the bills.

"He's in an important conference right now. May I take the message?" Then I can fly it out to him on the golf course by messenger pigeon.

"I decided I'd rather play football for this university because of its educational benefits and the fact that I admire the coach." How can you beat a school where the alumni guarantee you $500 for every touchdown you make?

"Anytime I can be of further service to you, don't hesitate to call on me." Somehow I'll figure a way to be out of hearing.

Jewish Welfare Federation's Drive Launched

The Jewish Welfare Federation of Marin, San Francisco and the Peninsula has launched its annual appeal for funds. The goal this year is $2,500,000, or 40 per cent more than last year's drive raised.

The money goes to support 33 local and international agencies which supply support to large numbers of refugees from oppressed Eastern European countries, help support the Marin Jewish Community Center, the Mount Zion Hospital and Medical Center in San Francisco as well as many other organizations which aid children, the ill and the aged.

Square Dancing Classes Started

The Novato Stump Jumpers, in cooperation with the Novato Parks and Recreation Department, started a 15-week course for adult beginners in square dancing at the IDESI Hall last night.

Sessions will run for 14 more Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. with Dave Milano as caller.

Marin City Meet

The proposed "total education program" for Marin City will be discussed today at 8 p.m at the Community Lounge before the Marin City Community Services District board. Improvement club, church, womens' and garden organizations have been invited for the proposed community program combining recreation, education, culture and social work.

Wagon. Here we go again with this really sharp Classic Custom, with automatic, radio & heater in an appealing rose color. This price is EXACT WHOLESALE—to you. #2926A.

SURVEY AFTER CANCER REPORT

How Is Tobacco Industry Doing?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: One month ago the U.S. surgeon general's report on smoking shook the tobacco industry. The following story, based on a nationwide survey, tells about the effects of the report on cigarette sales, tax receipts, advertising, new products, factory output and other areas of the multibillion-dollar industry.)

By RICHARD H. HOENIG

NEW YORK (AP)—Mixed among hundreds of baskets of unfinished tobacco pipes in a Brooklyn factory are several dozen filled with bright red, yellow and green parts.

When completed these colored pipes will sport rhinestones embedded in polished, carved bowls. The pipes are only five inches long, designed to attract women.

A newspaper advertisement urges readers to try a "safety cigarette that looks like a cigarette, feels like a cigarette and satisfies like a cigarette—but you never light up." The manufacturer of this clove-scented imitation of a cigarette guarantees money back if it doesn't reduce withdrawal symptoms when you give up the real item.

In a Patterson, N.J. drugstore a customer receives antismoking literature and a short lecture when he buys cigarettes. "We don't just tell them you shouldn't smoke but we try to explain why," says the chief pharmacist.

Colored pipes for women, intensified antismoking campaigns and a flood of cigarette substitutes are among the many signs of what some experts consider the most critical period for the 7-billion-dollar U.S. tobacco industry since John Rolfe planted his first tobacco crop 350 years ago.

Last month a scientific panel convened by the surgeon general of the United States branded cigarette smoking a hazard to health, a cause of lung cancer and a contributing factor to other diseases. Remedial action was urged.

Cigarette sales immediately dropped. Some guesses on the size of the drop ran to 30 per cent.

Sales apparently are rebounding now. A nationwide survey of retailers, distributors and wholesalers indicates that sales remain below the levels before the report was released, but that the prevailing movement is upward in at least 12 of 17 major cities surveyed. These 12 include Kansas City, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Cleveland, New Orleans and Denver.

"I think there will be a quick return to almost normalcy," said Morris Shlensky, president of Katz Drug Co., a large Midwestern chain. "Most customers seemed to take it as a lark. It has been fashionable to say, 'I have given up cigarettes'." Many in the industry agree.

Among the nation's major cigarette manufacturers only one has given any direct indication of recent sales. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., the No. 1 cigarette maker, said that orders being placed by wholesaler distributors "indicate a drop nationally in retail sales of our products which is more than normal at this time of year."

Another indicator of sales is cigarette tax receipts. A check of January figures for 19 states showed 16 declines from January, 1963. However, in more than half the cases where state officials commented, they said the "smoking and health" report could not clearly be blamed.

Declines in cigarette tax receipts ranged from an estimated 3 per cent in California to 13 per cent in Rhode Island. The average was 8.3 per cent.

In four cases—New York, Rhode Island, New Hampshare and Ohio—state officials believed the report was definitely responsible.

Factors that confused the picture included purchases of tax stamps a month or two in advance and bulk purchases of stamps based on money available for taxes rather than on cigarettes sold or ordered. Several state officials said it was too early to determine the true effect of the report.

One fact was clear. The demand for cigars, pipes and smoking tobacco has skyrocketed.

"It's like Christmas in February. We've got so many pipe orders we don't know what to do," said I. C. Legros, president of Shulick Taylor Distributing Co. in Wheeling, W.Va.

George Watnick, a partner of the Knickerbocker firm that resumed making women's pipes after a six-year lapse, agreed. "I've never seen a surge of demand like this and I've been in the business since 1924."

Major cigar manufacturers confirmed the demand.

"Our January sales skyrocketed. February is even better. It's that way all over the country," said E. Archie Mishkin, president of Bayuk Cigar Co., Philadelphia.

But one industry source cautioned: "No one really knows if this will hold or whether everyone will go back to cigarettes."

Meanwhile, the companies that made most of the 511 billion cigarettes puffed by an estimated 70 million U.S. smokers last year are sitting back and, as one tobacco man put it, "waiting to be told what they will be allowed to do and what they won't be permitted to do."

Part of the answer may come after a March 16 Federal Trade Commission hearing on rules that would drastically restrict cigarette advertising. The FTC proposals would require each cigarette package and advertisement to display prominently a warning that cigarette smoking is hazardous to health and may cause cancer and other diseases.

Two major companies have made advertising changes since the smoking report. But all maintain they have not cut total advertising outlays or altered basic policy.

Since the report, the National Geographic, Saturday Review, Parents and Sunset magazines have dropped cigarette advertising. On the other side a nationwide group of 35 local and regional monthly magazines solicited more cigarette advertising after finding readers "expressed a strong desire to evaluate advertising for themselves."

Another development has been a reduction of the work week for an undetermined number of the industry's nearly 100,000 factory workers. Three-or-four-day work weeks were ordered for some plants by each of the major makers.

All the companies emphasized that a slow period normally develops each year after Christmas. They said some reduction in the work schedule has been customary over the years.

American and Lorillard admitted some of the softness in sales may have been due to the report. A Philip Morris spokesman noted that "everyone figures we all ought to be back on full production by March."

The major companies have contributed to a 10-million-dollar grant to the American Medical Assn.'s long range study on the relationship between smoking and disease.

At the same time a proposal that would permit the Agricultural Department to undertake research into the hazards of tobacco products at a cost of 10 million dollars annually was progressing through Congress.

On the state level projected legislation covers the field of controls over the sales and advertising of cigarettes. Some states already have laws banning sales of cigarettes to minors.

Experts on the tobacco industry generally don't feel these substitutes will have much of an overall effect on cigarette sales.

"I feel there will be a drop in (cigarette) consumption of 5 to 15 per cent over the first half of the year, from a year ago," said one of the experts, Oren Knauer of Standard and Poor's Corp., an advisory service. "The decline should gradually diminish and turn into an increase over a year ago by the second half," he added.

He feels cigarette company stocks are selling "quite low and should not go much lower." They have not shared in the general rise of the market since 1961 when they hit their all-time peaks.

In the month following the report, the stocks of five major tobacco companies traded on the New York Stock Exchange declined an average of less than $1 a share. One issue, American Tobacco, was about unchanged. Liggett and Myers was up about $6 a share and the others were off about $2, $3 and $5.

Scientists Working On Ways To Sterilize Male Mosquito

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI) — The two most promising of the experimental "hemosterilants" have been put to the acid test of whether they sterilize the male mosquito permanently or merely for the time being.

One flunked it ingloriously while the other passed it more or less — but much more than less. The test was critical because it would be uneconomical to sterilize a male mosquito on anything other than a permanent basis.

"Chemosterilants" are science's potential better-mouse-trap for controlling obnoxious insects. The current control method of poisoning them is under criticism because it can poison birds, fish and even people.

But the experimental "chemosterilants" promise to be harmful only to insects, and harmful to them only by preventing them from reproducing. It is a less dramatic method than killing but in the long run it would be no less effective.

The two most promising are "apholate" and "tepa," those names being extreme simplifications of extremely complicated chemical definitions. In the entomological research laboratories of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Gainesville, Fla., they were applied to the males of the common mosquito, aedes aegypti.

They were added to the tap water in which mosquito larvae were developing. When the males emerged into adult form, they were exposed consecutively to four batches of females. The tests were to determine whether the females subsequently laid hatchable eggs.

Of the eggs laid by the first females exposed to "apholate"-treated males, not quite 5 per cent were hatchable. But the eggs of the fourth batch of females exposed to them were 85 per cent hatchable and this is the ratio of hatchability which occurs in natural mosquito breeding.

From batch to batch of females the score of the "tepa"-treated males was dismal. The eggs of the first batch was only .5 per cent hatchable. In the second batch the hatchability rate rose to 1.5 per cent and in the third it bounced up to 8.5 per cent only to fall back to about 2.5 per cent in the fourth.

Obviously a species has no future if all or even many of its males were restrained to such ratios. Furthermore, the amounts of "chemosterilants" applied to the water in which the males spent their larva stage was tiny — only 10 parts chemical to one million parts water.

David A. Dame and Hugh R. Ford, the entomologists in charge, also showed experimentally that "tepa" applied to male mosquitos after they reached adulthood resulted in 100 per cent permanent sterilization.

In this connection it must be remembered that applying a "chemosterilant" to mosquito-breeding bogs would be much easier than getting it into fully developed animals.

However, Dame and Ford tried coating glass with a thin residue of "tepa." Mosquitos emerging from the larvae stage rested on the glass and the males among them turned out, on test, to be 100 per cent ineffectual as egg fertilizers.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctor Takes The Day Off To Get In A Little Golfing With Readers

VAN DELLEN

Is your golf game affected by poor vision? Yes, if we can believe Dr. William W. Vallotton, an ophthamologist from South Carolina. Reducing the golf score is one of his pet hobbies. The highlights of his talk, "The Ocular Aspects of Golf," were published in a recent issue of the Medical Tribune.

Dr. Vallotton says poor shots from the tee and fairways are due to physical rather than optical causes. There are two exception. One is when the air is hazy and foggy and the golfer overshoots his target. The other occurs in golfers wearing bifocals, who tend to hold the head lower to peer over the near segment of the lens. If the head is too low, the swing is off. On the other hand, some players find bifocals help keep down the head so they hit the ball properly.

THE SHORTS SHOTS, as in putting, require more eye coordination. Some persons with distorted vision view all greens as overslanted and they undershoot or overshoot every putt. Others aim the ball to the left or right of the cup.

A good player usually compensates or adjusts to his eye condition and may not realize anything is wrong. Dr. Vallotton tells of a top amateur who was doing this. He did not know he was nearsighted and after glasses were prescribed he could not play as well as before. The ball appeared too small and distances were distorted. Some blind golfers do better than those with good vision. One professional teaches the grooved swing by having the students close their eyes after addressing the ball so they won't look up or move the head.

SOME OF Dr. Vallotton's theories may prove helpful to duffers as well as to professionals. When putting, for example, the head is tilted slightly to the cup. When this causes a mild eye muscle imbalance, depth perception may be affected.

Distortions also may be increased in those with a prominent bridge of the nose, especially when it obstructs vision from either side. Golfers with problems along this line do better by standing upright and utilizing the croquet player's between-the-legs stance. It's not so bad—try it.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EXAMINATION NEEDED

M. P. writes: My sister has pain in the abdomen most of the time. But several times a day it gets so bad, tears roll down her cheeks. Do you think this is due to a pinched nerve?

REPLY

Possibly but there are more common causes. Consider spasm of the bowel or stomach valve, intestinal kinks, gas, ulcer, and gallstones.

FAILING HEART

M. L. writes: Is congestive heart disease a condition of old age?

REPLY

This term is synonymous with dropsy and many victims are older. But the condition can develop at any age, including the first day of life, depending upon the type of heart disease present.

TWITCHING FINGERS

Mrs. C. writes: My 33-year-old son, a clerk in a supermarket, has twitching of the four fingers on his right hand. Can we do anything at home for relief?

REPLY

You can help by hammering away at him to see a physician. In time, he will be persuaded.

MEAT AND GOUT

A. T. writes: How long must a victim of an acute attack of gout stay off meat?

REPLY

There is no need to avoid meat completely when gout is treated with modern medications.

Today's Health Hint — Take your physician's advice.

Three Enlist In Marine Corps

Three Marin youths have enlisted in the Marine Corps and are in recruit training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

They are Roger E. Zahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Zahn, 211 Canal Street, San Rafael; Noel R. Roach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilton J. Roach, 1901 Indian Valley, Novato, and Stanley S. Willey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Willey, 1365 Denlyn Street, Novato.

State Learning To Aid Delinquent Boys

PASO ROBLES (UPI)—It might have been a class discussion in any high school—except for the surroundings and the subject being discussed.

A group of youths confined to Paso Robles School for Boys had gathered for a counseling session. The discussion leader was one of the inmates and he selected glue-sniffing as the topic for discussion.

This subject was of particular interest to the discussion leader. He had been convicted on a glue-sniffing charge and he was nearing parole. He realized he needed all the help he could get as he faced his return to society.

For 50 minutes he listened intently as his fellow inmates offered their suggestions. He thanked them quietly when the session ended.

The youth has since been paroled and, as far as school officials know, has avoided any further convictions. If so, he has joined a distinct minority of "graduates" from the 13 institutions for delinquent boys run by the California Youth Authority.

The records of the youth authority reveal that, of the youths sent to CYA schools on first convictions in 1954, 56 per cent were back in institutions of some sort by the end of 1962.

But officials hope that through the program now conducted at Paso Robles and the other schools the disturbing rate of returnees can be reduced.

A total of 6,570 boys between the ages of 8 and 18 were confined to CYA schools during 1963. Of the total 484 were at Paso Robles. The greatest percentage of inmates at Paso Robbles were convicted of car theft, but their crimes range from narcotics offenses to murder.

The Paso Robles school is operated on two basic principles: Keep the boys busy and teach them self-reliance. The group discussion of glue-sniffing was an an example of the latter.

Similar counseling sessions are conducted regularly in the cottage-type dormitories in which the boys live. Supervisors observe the discussions but try to avoid offering their opinions.

No restrictions are placed on what the youths can discuss. They can discuss personal problems or they can air their complaints about the food or the discipline at the school. Even the supervisor observing the discussion might find himself a target of criticism.

School officials feel the discussion sessions are a harmless way for the inmates to let off some steam. But the sessions have a more important purpose.

By encouraging the inmates to talk over their problems, school officials hope the boys will give more serious thought to those problems and thus be better able to cope with the outside world when they are released.

The school's educational and vocational training program has the same goal. The inmates spend half of their day in the classroom and the other half working around the school.

The boys are not assigned to a specific grade level for academic instruction in a single classroom there may be 15 boys working at seven or eight different grade levels.

Class instruction ranges from remedial reading and elementary mathematics to algebra and college-preparatory English. Some inmates manage to complete their requirements for a high school diploma at the school.

Non-academic courses are given in four vocational shops at the school. These courses, in landscaping, auto repair and industrial arts, prepare the boys to hold useful jobs when they are released.

"Possibly our greatest problem is to get them to realize that life isn't just for today and that they have to learn and improve themselves to live a betsaid.

Underwater Films Earn Two Awards

Two San Rafael men, Al Giddings and Leroy French, co-owners of Bamboo Reef Skindiving Supplies of San Rafael and San Francisco, received special tribute awards in the seventh annual International Underwater Film Festival in Santa Monica this month.

Giddings, of 869 Flaxberry Lane, received gold plaques for both motion pictures and slides of underwater scenes he entered in the contest.

Flood Project Homes Bought

Marin County has purchased the first two parcels of land for the Coyote Creek flood control project. In each case, a family will lose its home.

Leslie V. and Laurie E. Tusup have agreed to sell their home at 248 Cardinal Road, Tamalpais Valley, for $25,000. Quentin D. and Helene H. Clayton, 262 Flamingo Road, settled for $19,750. The Marin County Board of Supervisors accepted the deeds Tuesday.

Public Works Director Donald R. Frost said the county is negotiating first with persons who will lose their houses for the creek right of way. He said about eight houses definitely will be removed, and another 12 may be.

'Open Campus' Is Big Issue At Tam High

Principal Robert H. Prather explained in a companion article that closing the campus, following disturbances over recent months, is "up to the students." He said Tamalpais High School District trustees have permitted a 30-day study period on the subject. The matter is expected to be heard again by the board March 3.

The News, which devoted about half of its news space to the subject, contains a question column in which four students, Tami Bell, Mike Thomsett, Lynn Terwilliger and Carol Kibbee all speak against closing the campus.

The stake, reads the editorial, is loss of the privilege of leaving the campus during brunch and lunch. Prather has proposed a chain wire fence around the rear of the campus.

"Smoking on campus would be prohibited and the rule on possession of tobacco would be strictly enforced. Students should realize, however, that stricter measures on smoking are inevitable since the release of the government report on smoking," the editorial says.

"If we want to maintain an 'open campus,' we must:

"1. Keep the streets clear, particularly along Homestead Avenue, the road which runs behind the school. Not annoy or obstruct pedestrians or cars traveling along the roads near campus.

"2. Not litter on school grounds and particularly not on private property which is adjacent to school grounds.

"3. Not use the school grounds and off campus areas as places to start or finish fights. Students' safety is a prime concern of the administration.

"4. Act responsibly and in good order in places, such as the Canteen and C's (drive-in), where large groups, some 200 or 300, congregate."

The cover photograph and four pages of text and pictures in the March edition of California Home, published as the California edition of the American Home by Curtis Publishing Co., are devoted to the Kentfield home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen McReavy at 3 Ravine Way.

Mrs. McReavy designed the 2,700-square foot home, which has three bedrooms, three bathtrooms, a kitchen, a study, a dining room, and a living room.

She said it took seven months to draw the plans and two revisions, while working with the contractor, to bring the cost down.

'SCHOOLS SHOULD BUY BOOKS'

State Urged To Quit Giving Away Supplementary Texts

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state was urged by the legislative analyst's office yesterday to quit furnishing free supplementary textbooks to California elementary schools.

Instead, local districts would have to buy their own books to supplement the basic texts provided by the state.

The recommendation was presented to an assembly ways and means subcommittee by David L. Cox. It quickly ran into opposition from members of the State Education Board and the State Curriculum Commission.

Free textbooks are down for 13.8 million dollars in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 1964-65 budget. They include both basic and supplementary texts.

Cox testified that the cost of the free textbook program has doubled in recent years. He said there has been an unchecked growth in the supplementary texts.

Cox said, too, that a child going through the elementary grades these days could be faced with as many as 389 different questions. He questioned whether there is a point of diminishing return on what a student can absorb.

His position was supported by Assemblyman James R. Mills (D-San Diego). He raised the question whether a "happy, helter-skelter rush for more texts" has developed "without thought as to whether a pupil will or can ever use all of them."

Mills emphasized he wasn't challenging the value in using supplementary texts but wondering whether the state is beginning to spend $1 for 25 cents worth of education.

Dorman L. Commons of Los Angeles, a member of the State Education Board, took issue with any assertion that all local districts could afford to buy their own extra material.

He said the legislative analyst's proposal would increase inequality of education among districts — the very thing he said the state is seeking to overcome.

Everett T. Calvert, deputy superintendent of public instruction, said the move would not save the ultimate taxpayer. He said the state can buy three books for the price of two because of volume purchases.

200 Expected To Head For Demo Council

Among prominent Democrats from Marin attending will be Roger Kent, Elizabeth Gatov, Hans Schiller, Muriel Appenzeller, and Michael Franzblau.

Twenty-four other delegates will represent the Marin County Central Committee, Marin Democratic Assembly, and various Democratic clubs in the county.

Schiller of Mill Valley, director of the First Congressional District, said the district caucus will be held Saturday night. Schiller is vice chairman of the resolutions committee for the convention.

Candidates will be picked also for delegates to the Democratic National Convention, which will be held in Atlantic City on Aug. 24.

Billy Graham Film

"Lucia," a new Billy Graham motion picture in color, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the First Beptist Church in Mill Valley. Filmed in Buenos Aires, it concerns "an individual's emptiness and frustration apart from the filling of the 'God-shaped vacuum' with which all mankind is born," according to Rev. John McDonald, pastor.

The first discussion of minerals and rocks of record is a treatise entitled "On Stone" by Theophrastus in the Third Century, B.C.

Our apologies to Mr. Washington

We realize we will be presenting quite a ludicrous sight, bedecked as we will be in George Washington-type wigs. But, we don't mind. That is, if you good people in Marin do not mind, either. It'll all be in the spirit of good-natured fun, and it will come easy for our men at Ames Ford. Because, we enjoy our jobs of selling new Ford cars and trucks and genuine trade-ins (not an ex-rental car in our lot).

It's gotten to be a fun job for our men for a very simple and logical reason: More and more people in Marin have shown they like the Ames Ford brand of merchandising— legitimate deals, presented in an honest manner, completely devoid of the frantic and cynical tactics too often characteristic of many other automobile dealerships today.

So, come in this Saturday, and help us celebrate George Washington's birthday. George may have a word other than "kooks" for us, but we're certain he would have laughed, too. He had a sense of humor, too, you know.

You are bound to find just the right new car trade-in you've been looking for in our lot—the brightest—lightest lot in Marin! The right price and the right terms, too! None of these have been driven only on Sundays by a 96-year-old church-going woman. But, on the other hand, none have been in rental service, driven by several hundred people, either!
